

FIBA
We Are Basketball

REPORTING SWITCHES 2019

R51

Principle for the switches:

Free throws (ball remains in the frontcourt):

- a) Referee who reports the foul, moves to the opposite side in T position
- b) Other 2 fill up the empty spots

Throw-in (ball remains in the frontcourt):

- a) Referee who reports the foul, moves to the opposite side in T or C position
- b) Other 2 fill up the empty spots

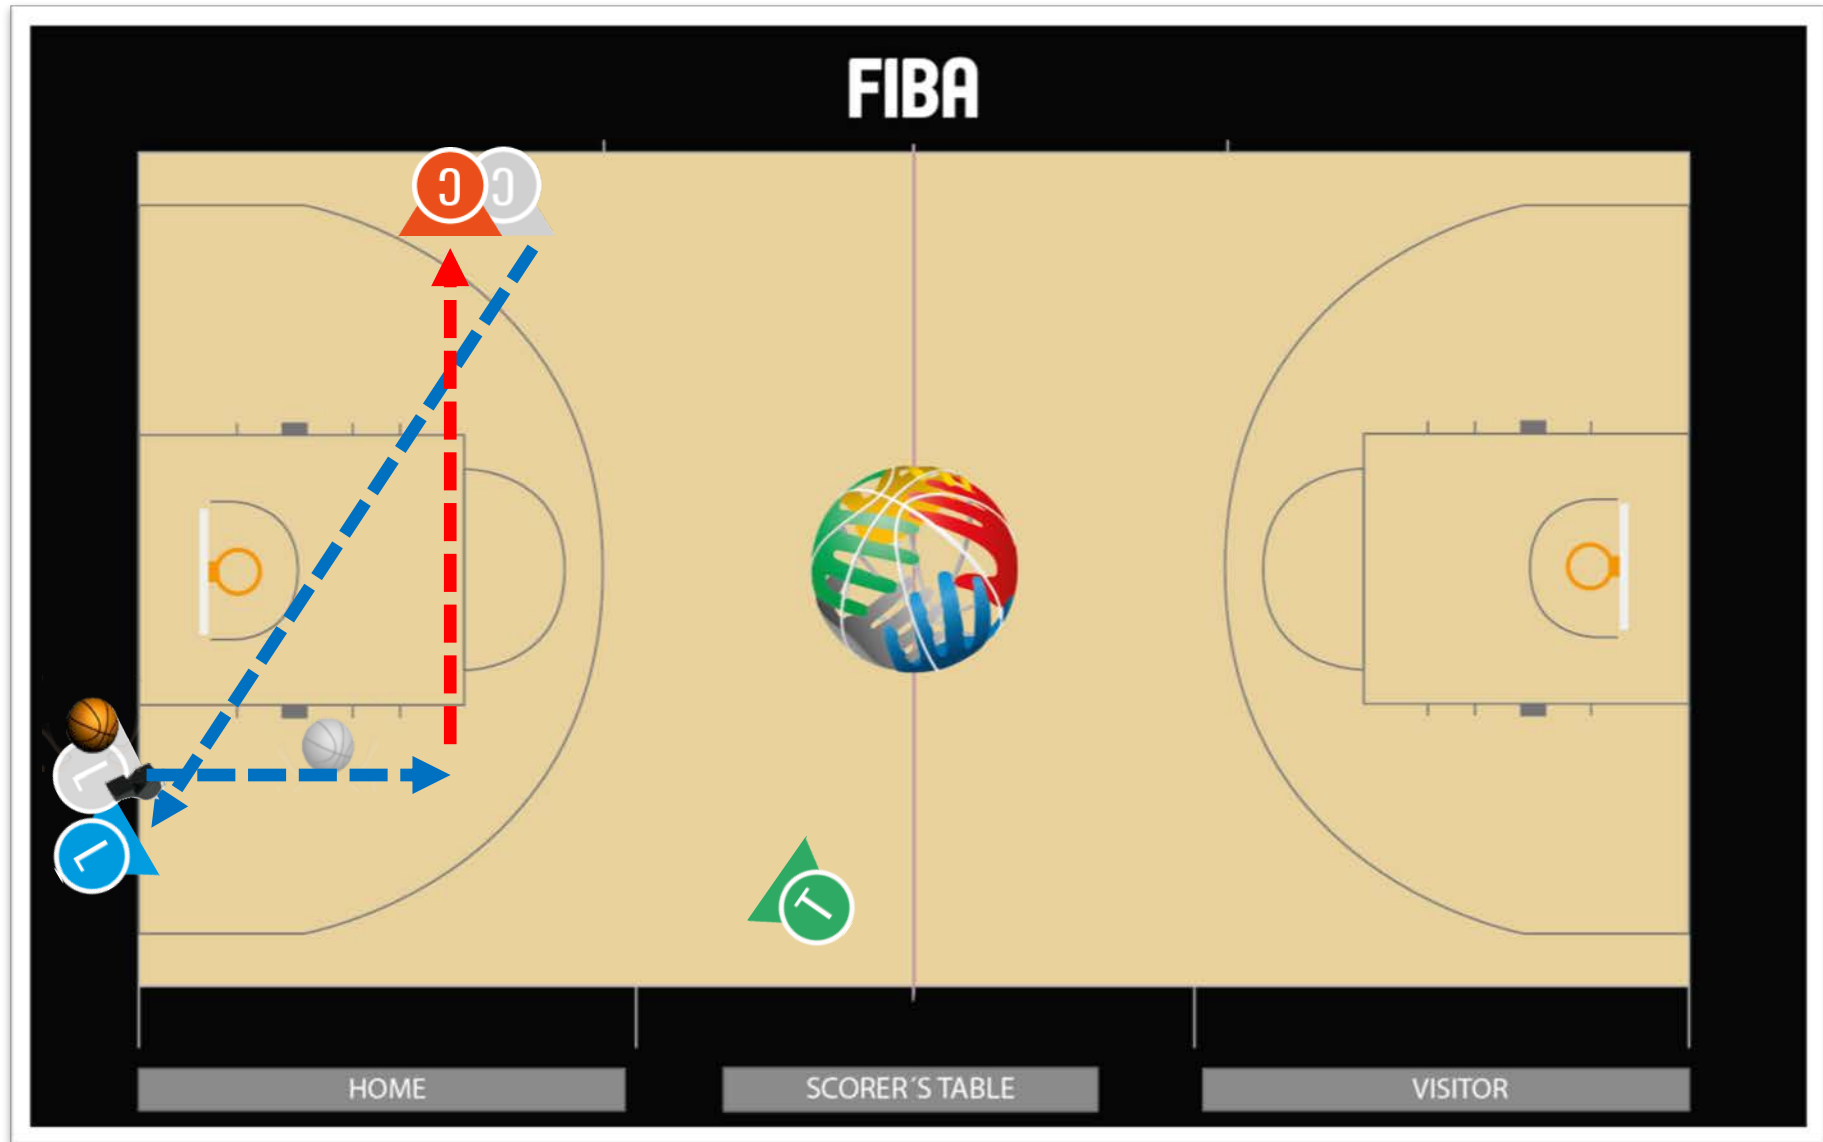

Minimize distance – walk sharp – think where is your next position after reporting.

Reporting:

- a) Use clear voice
- b) Sharp signals
- c) Rhythm

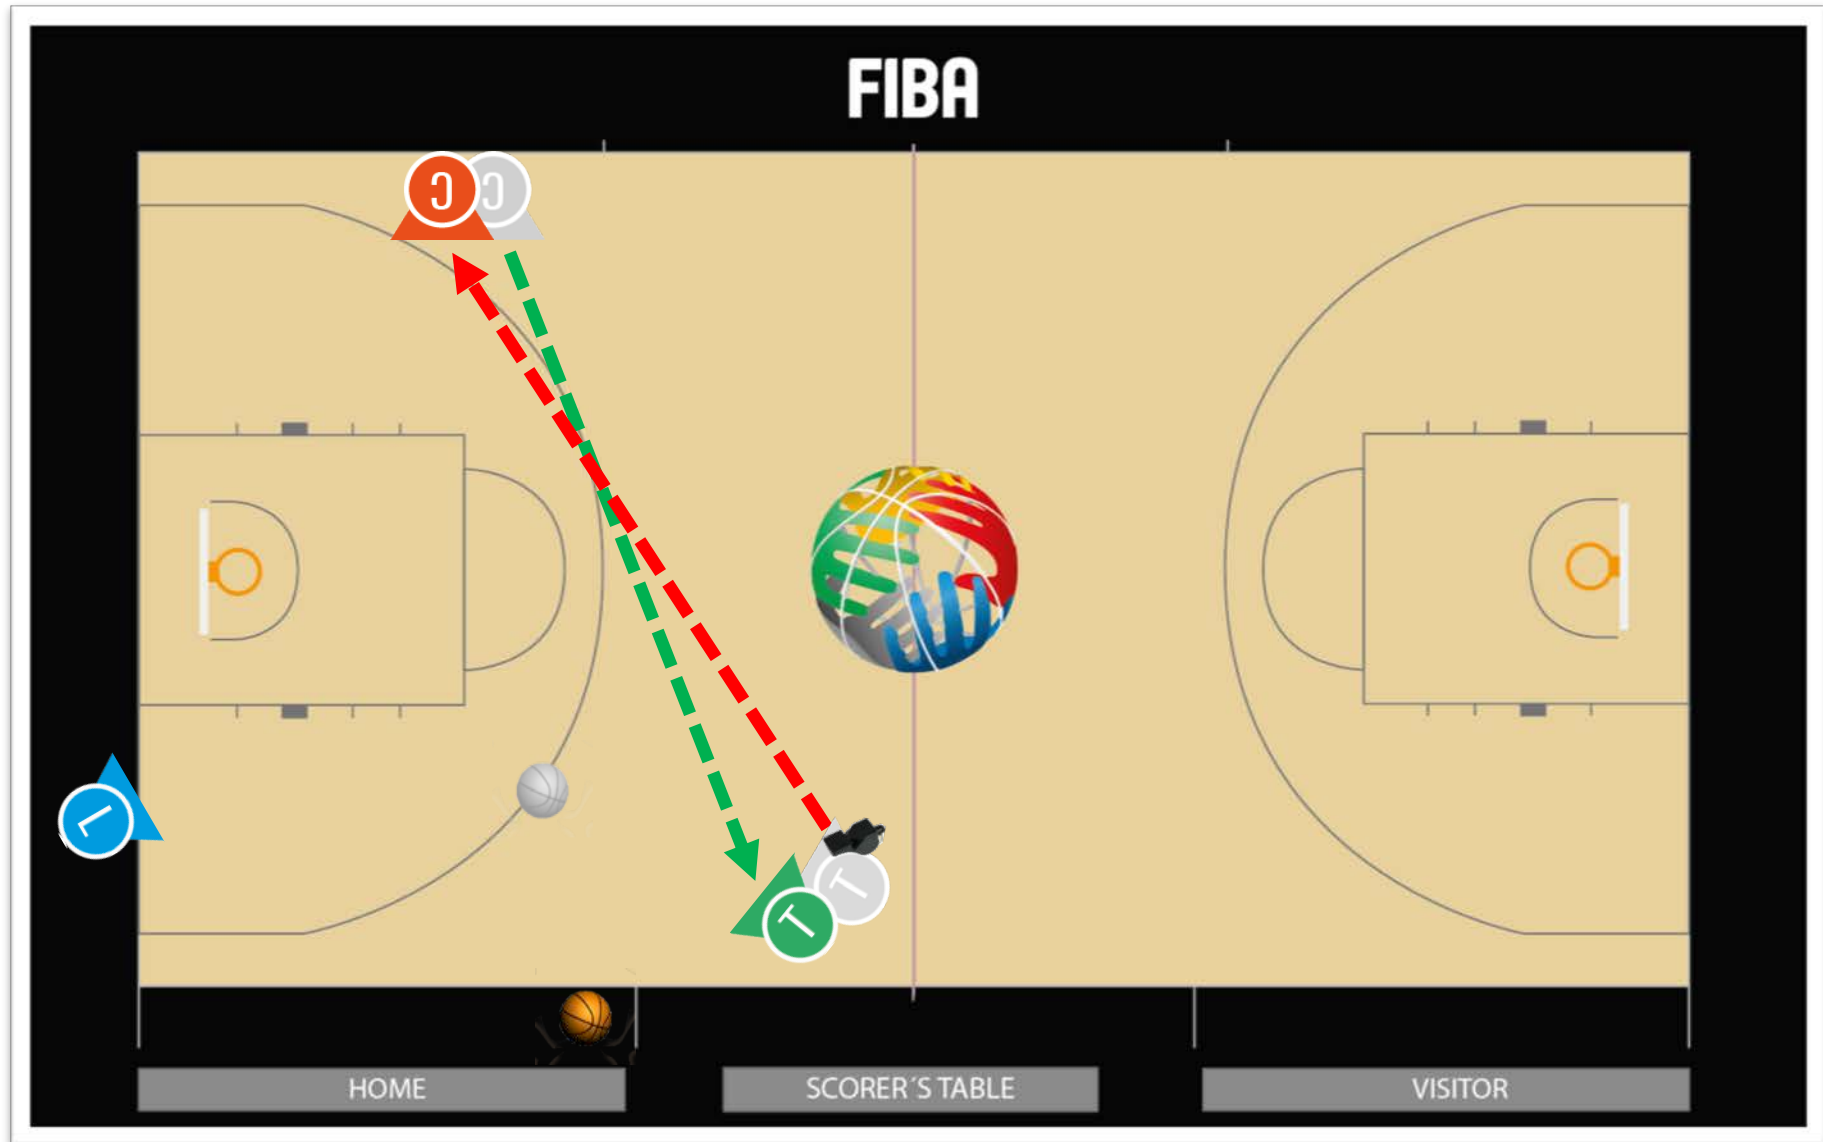

R52

Call frontcourt tableside by L – ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

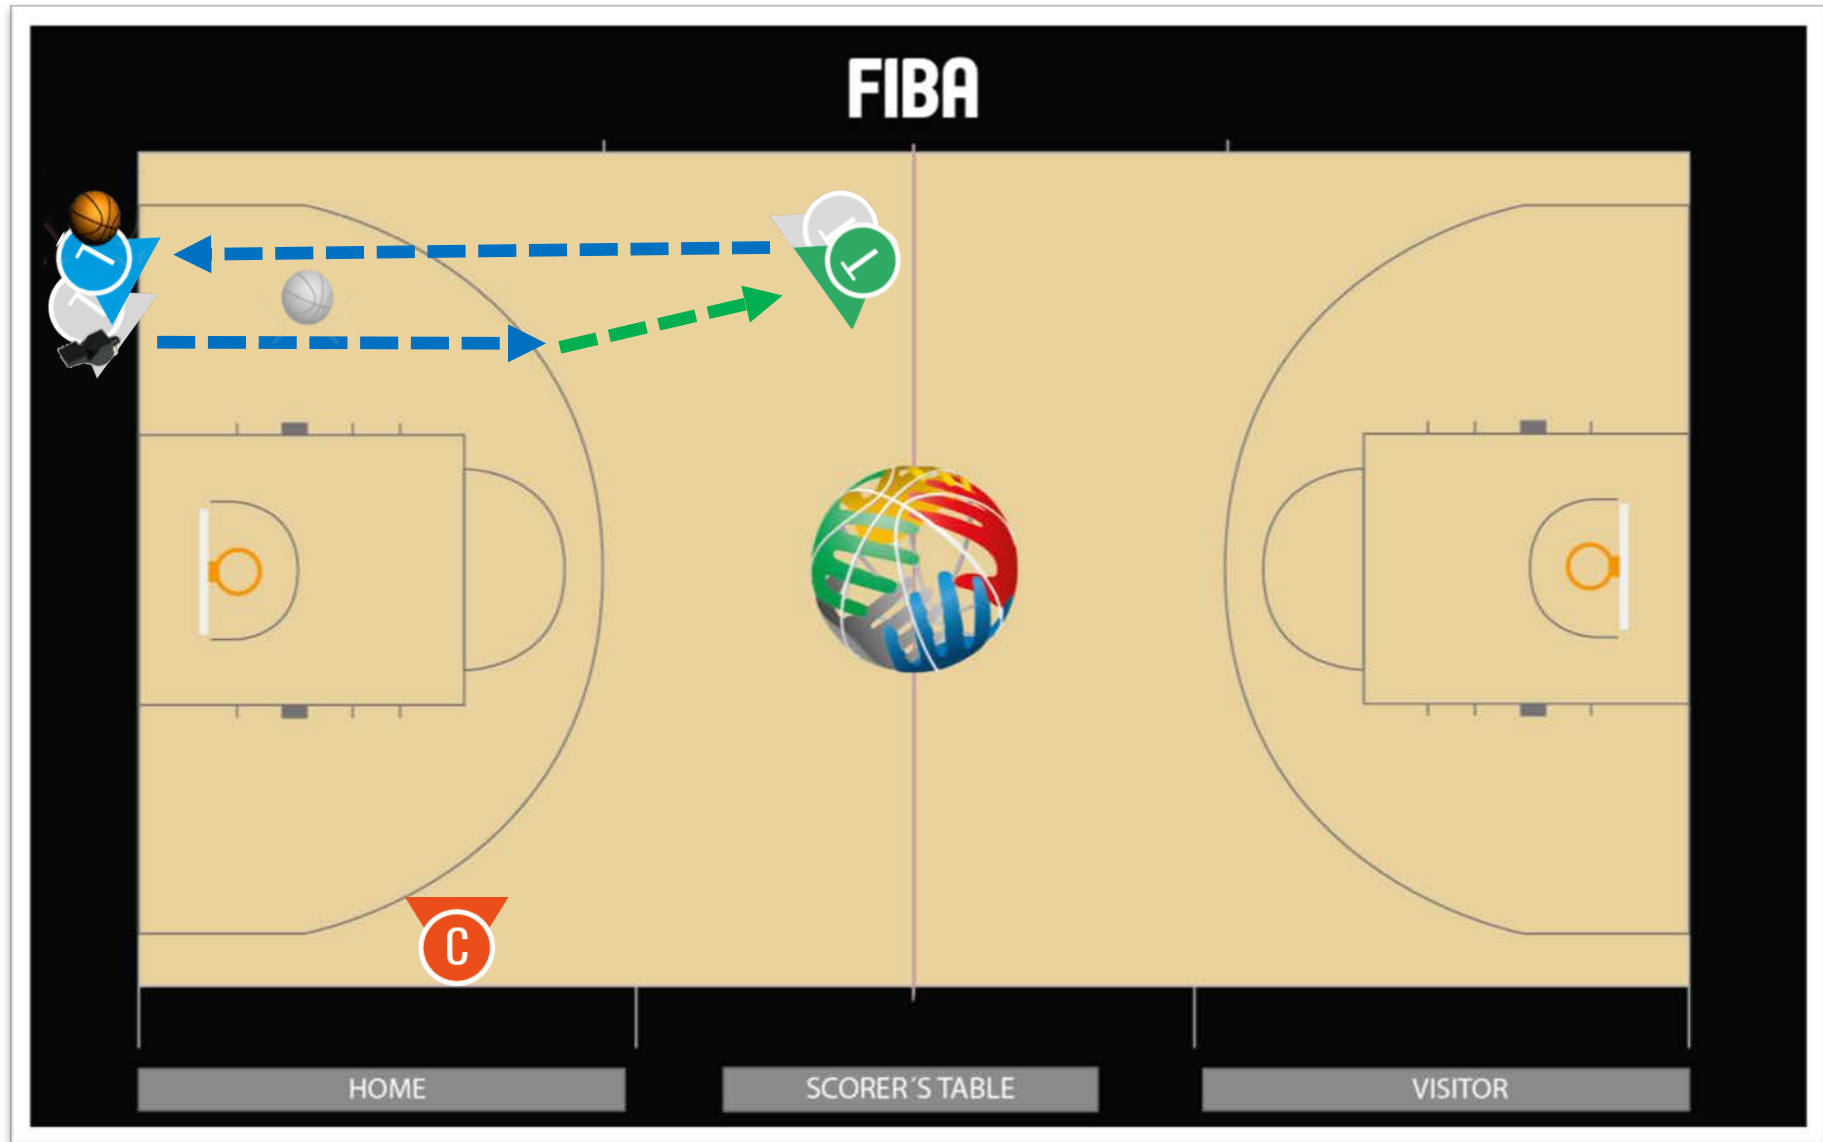

R53

Call frontcourt tableside by T – ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

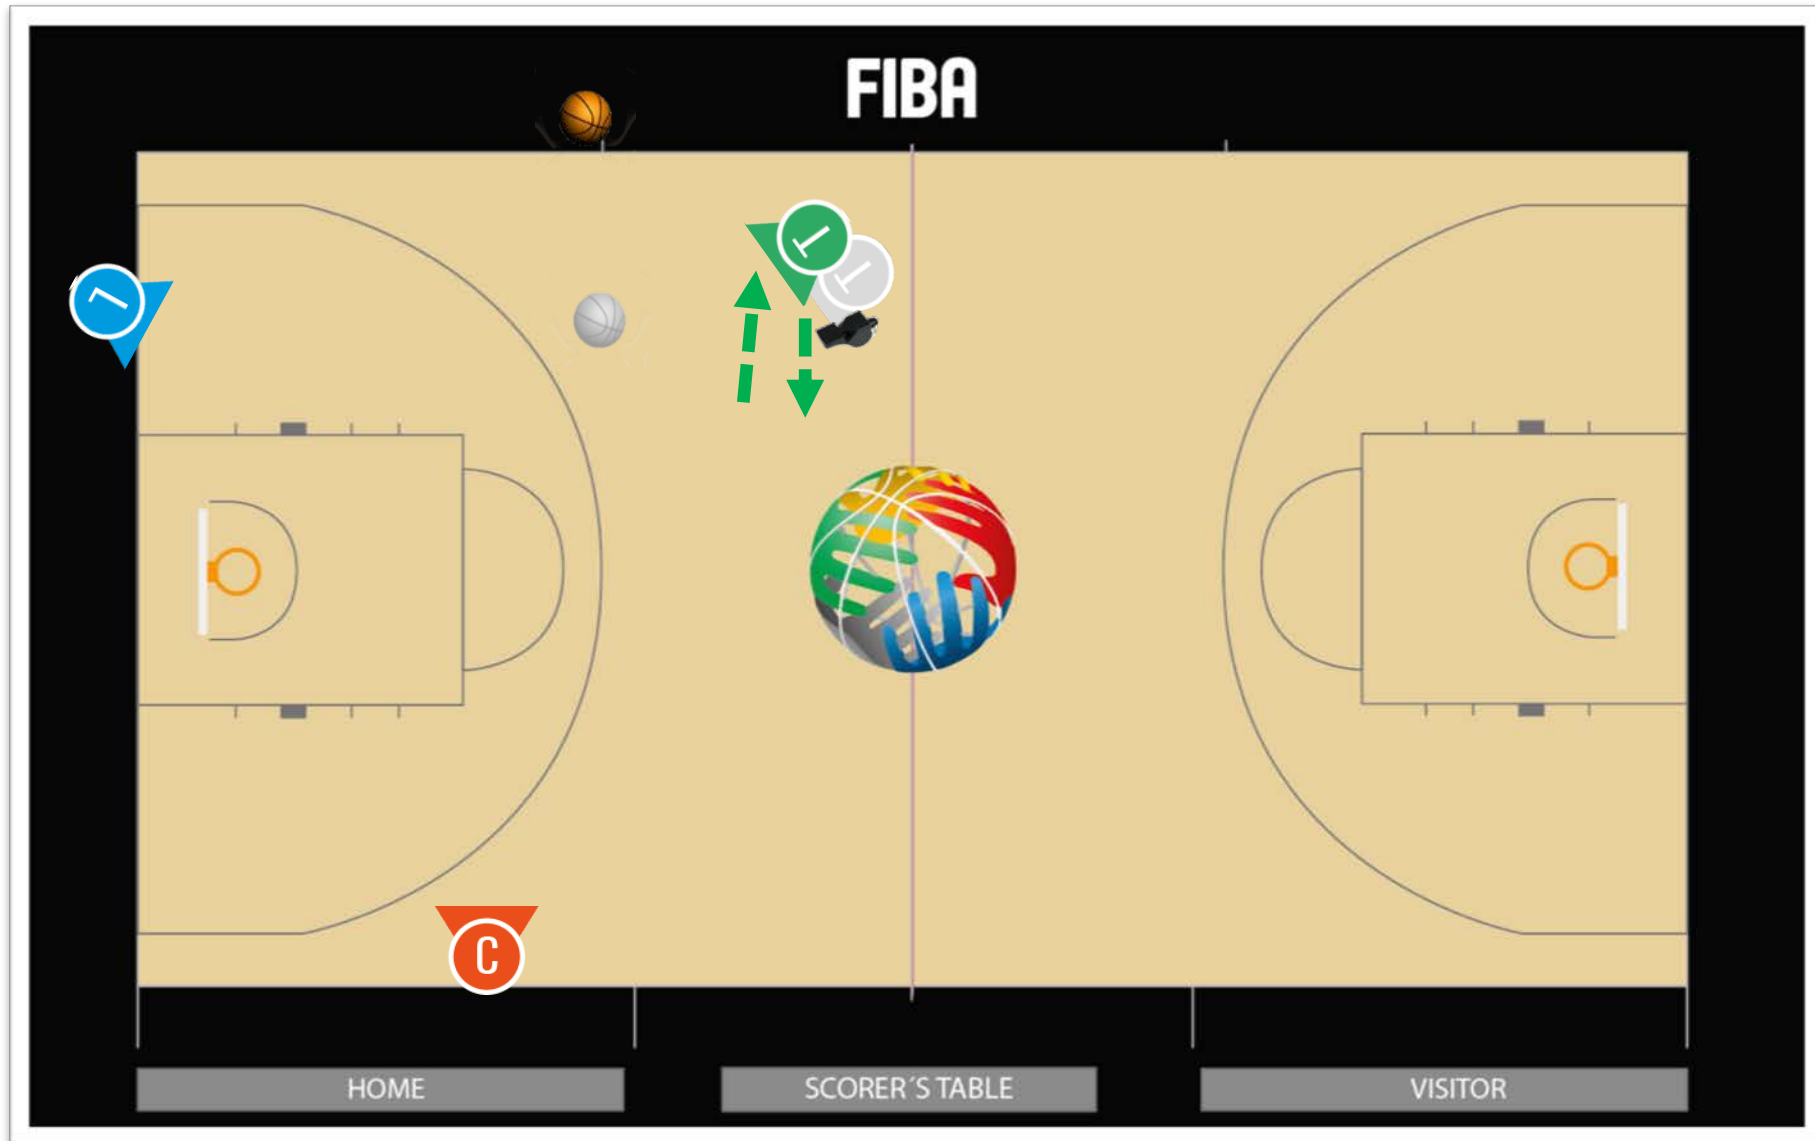

R54 B

Call frontcourt opposite side by L – ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

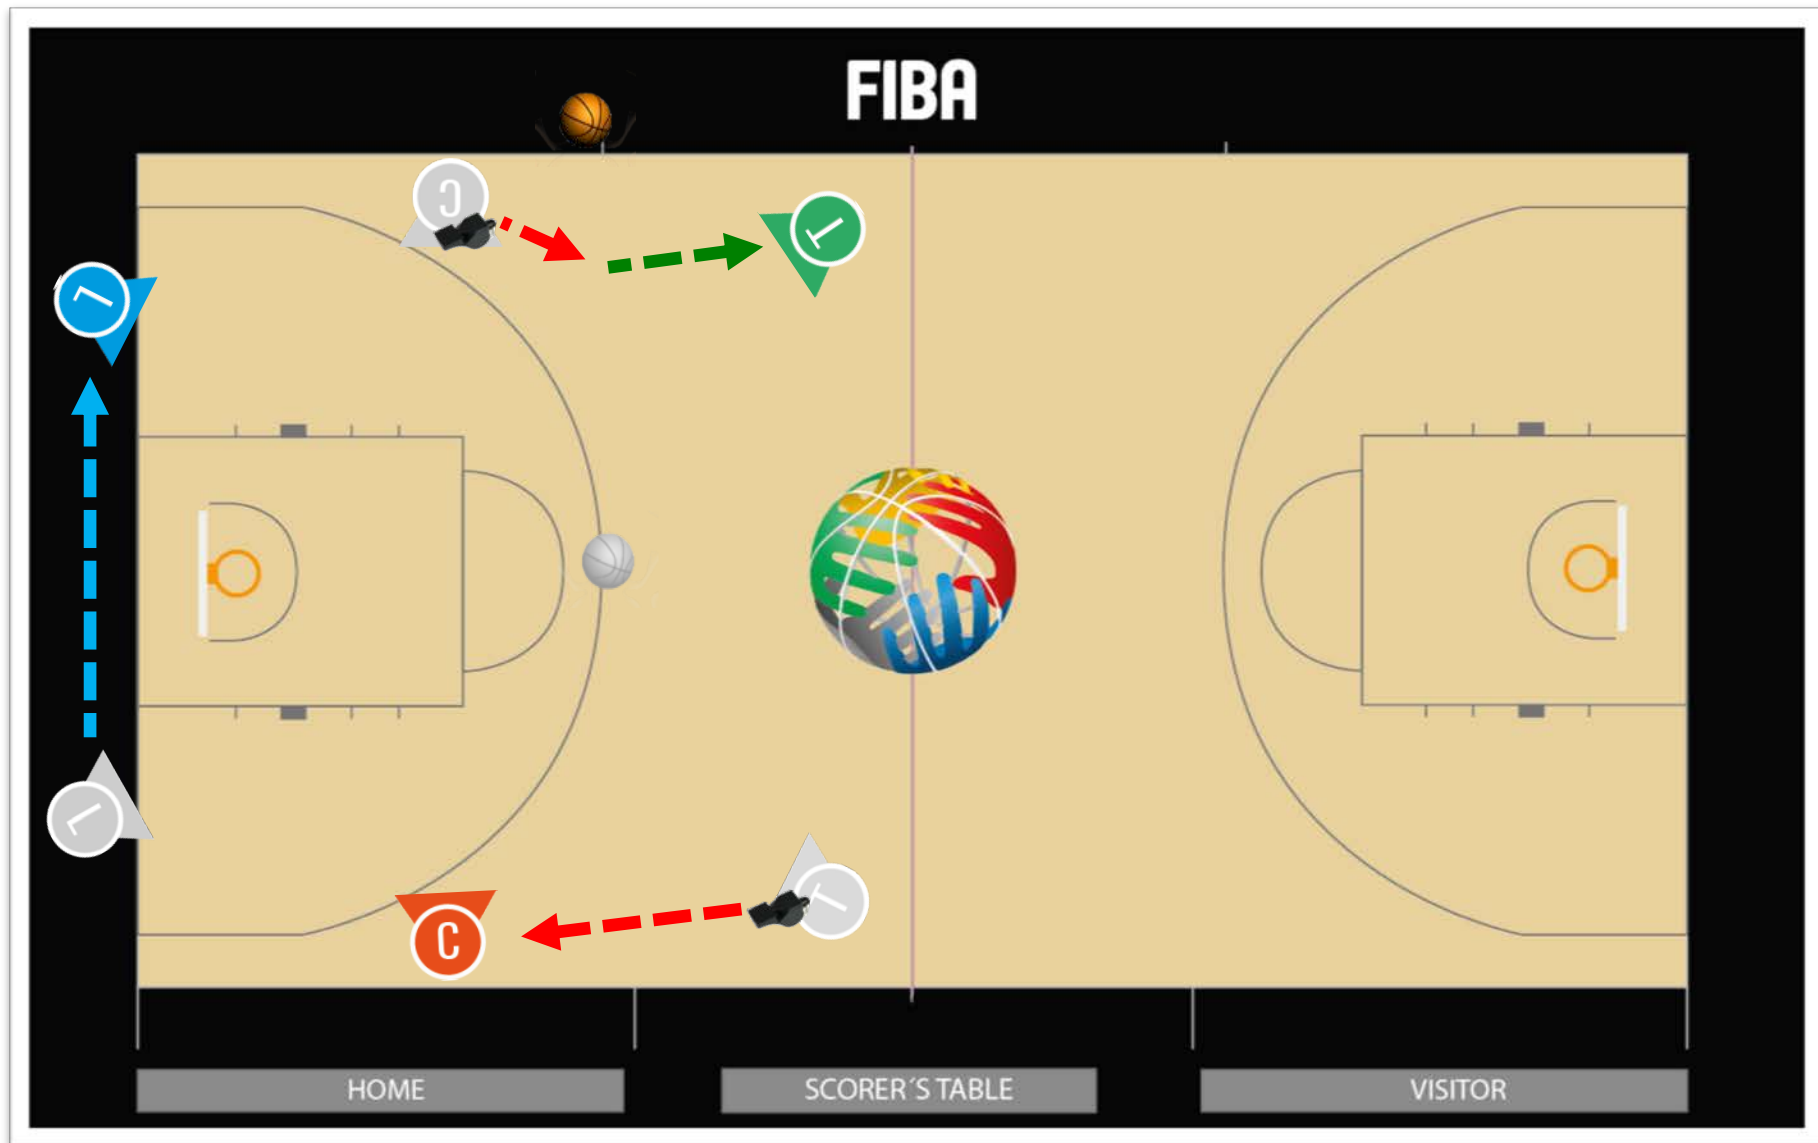

R55

Call frontcourt opposite side by T – ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

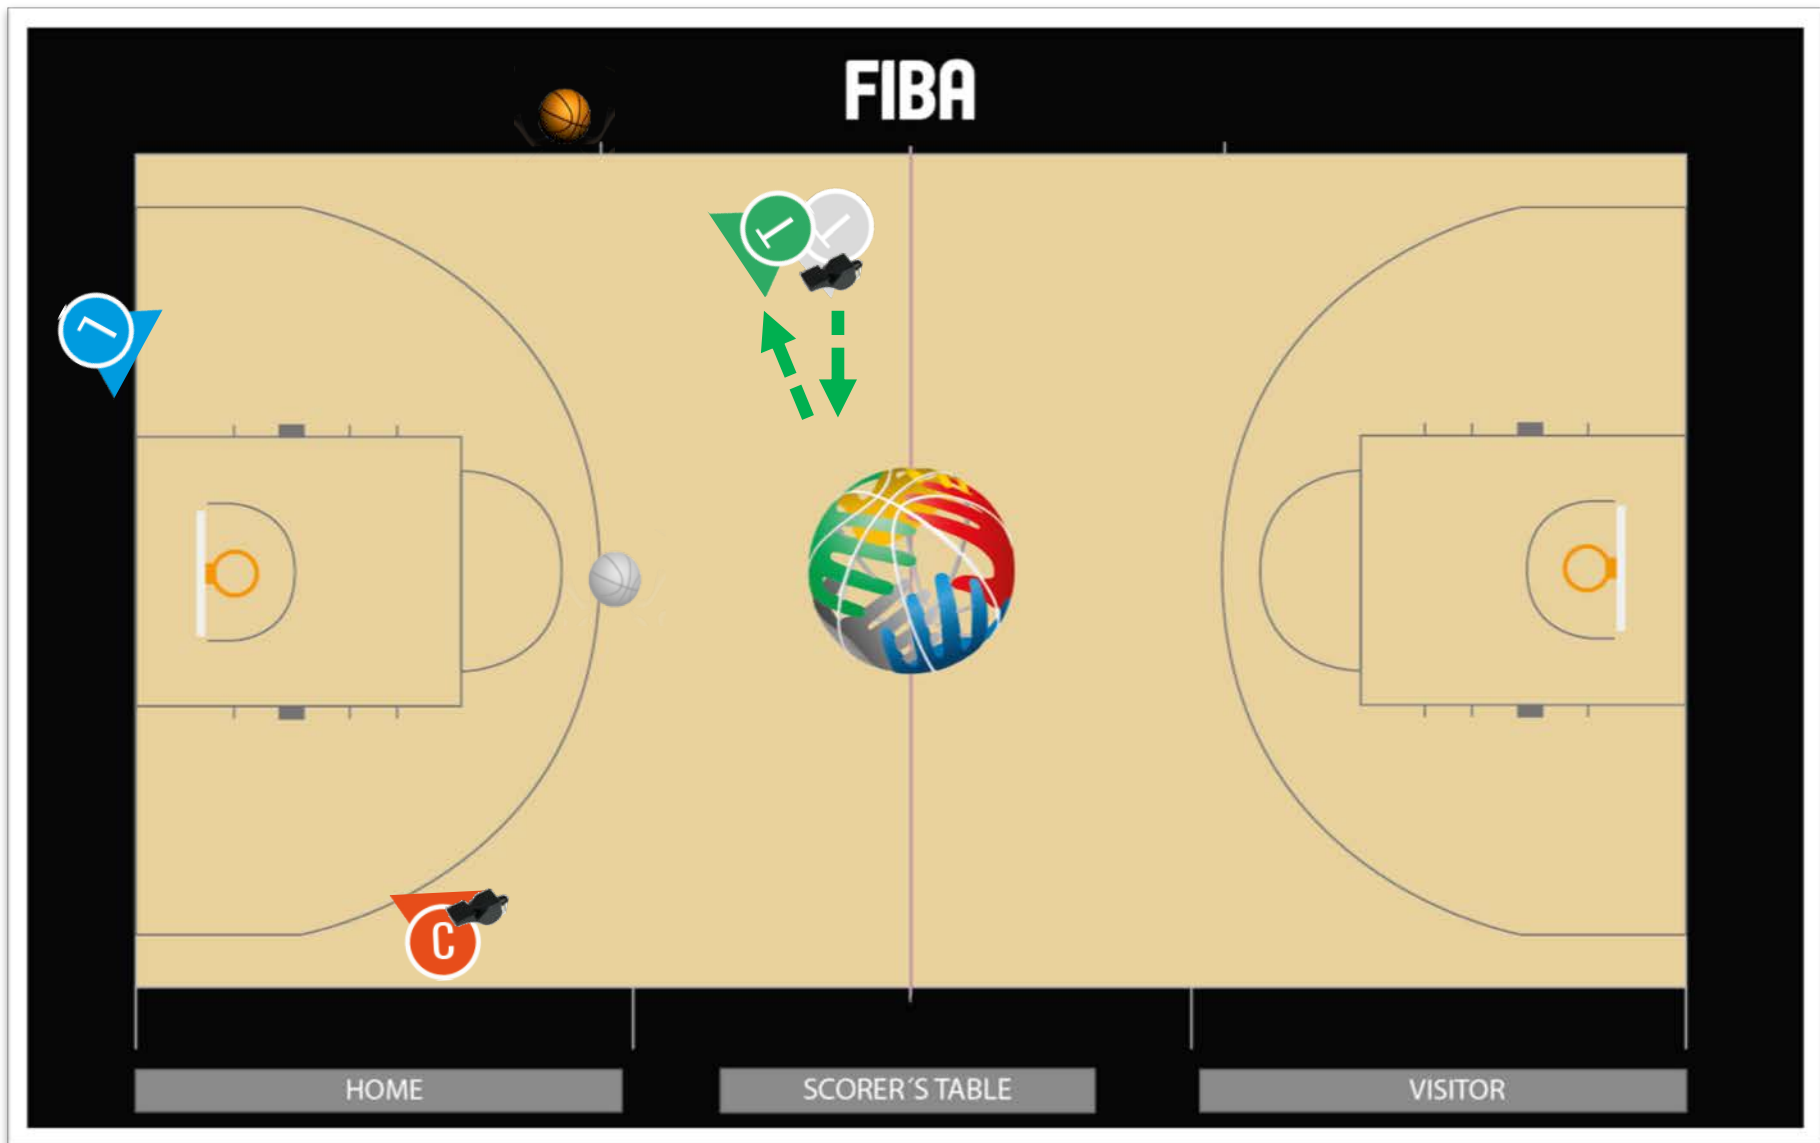

R56

Double call frontcourt by T & C– ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

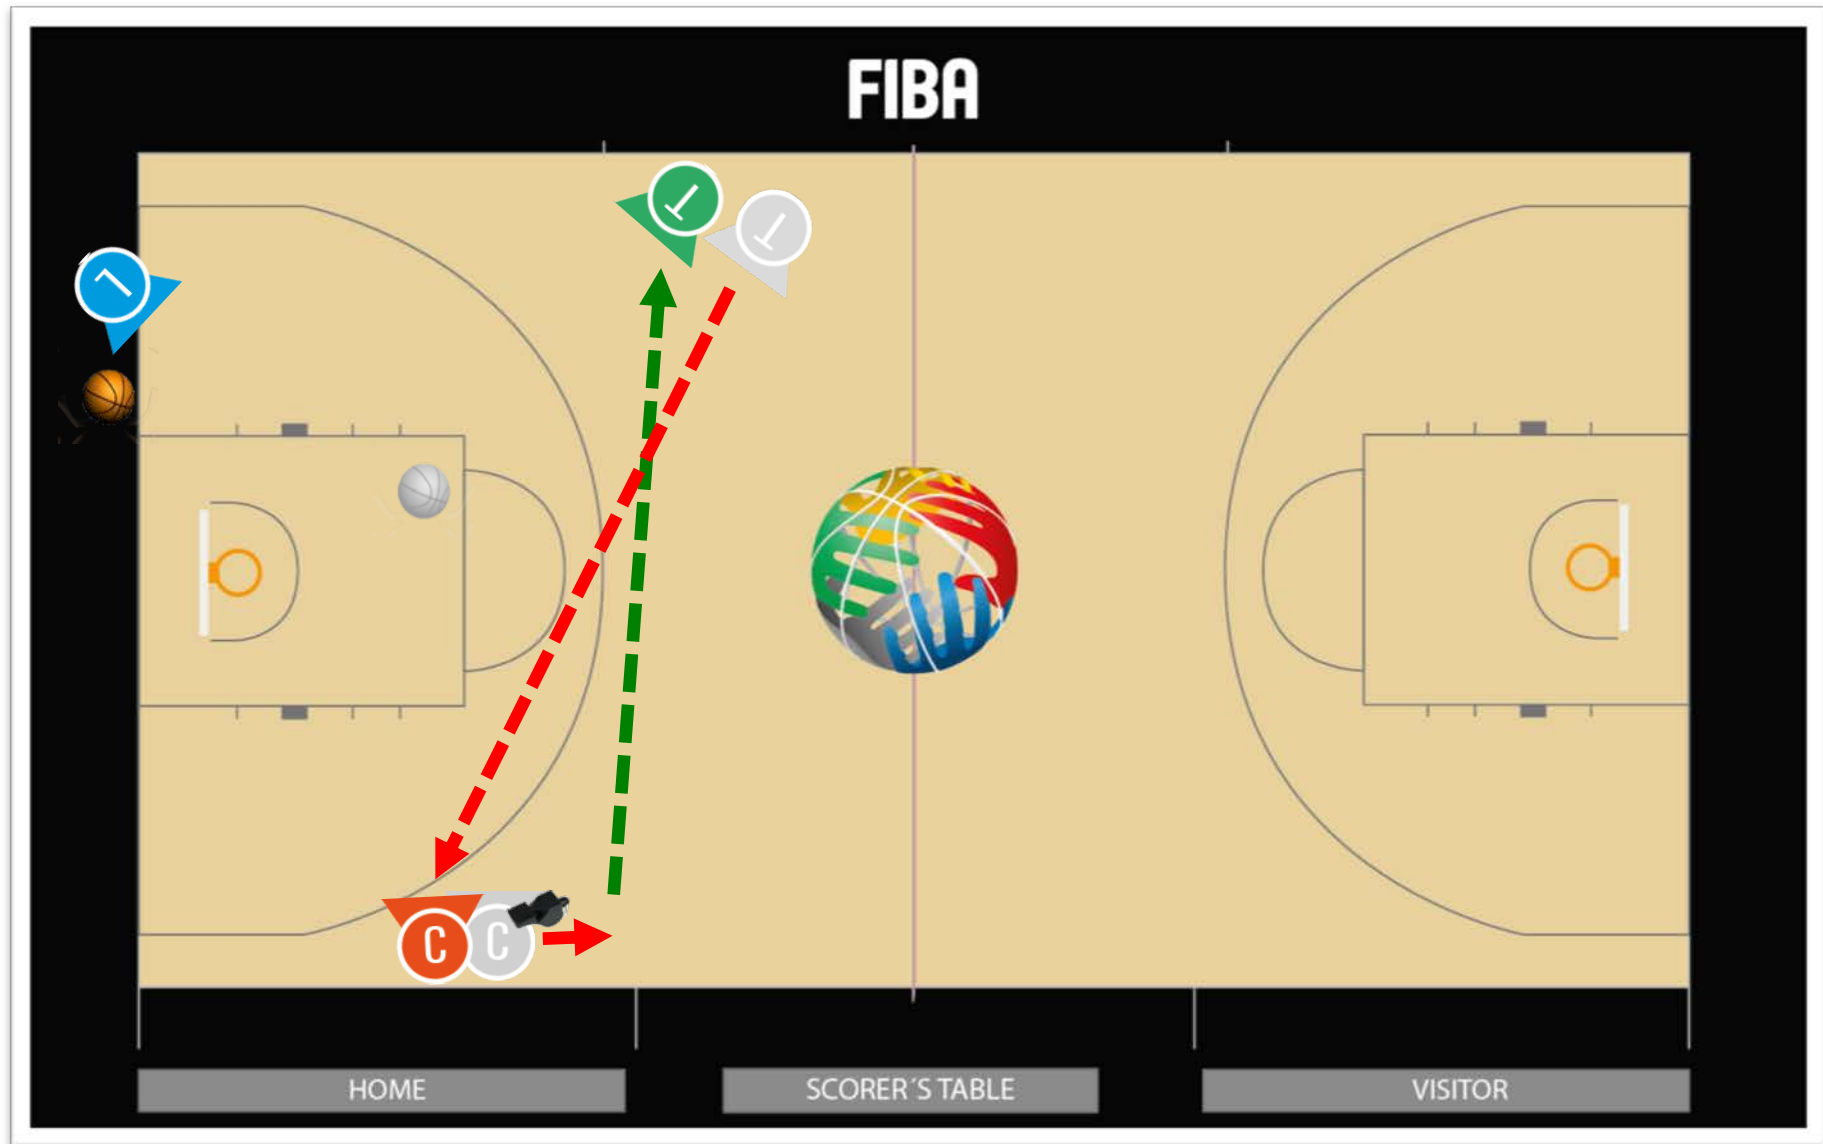

R57

Double call frontcourt by T & C – ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

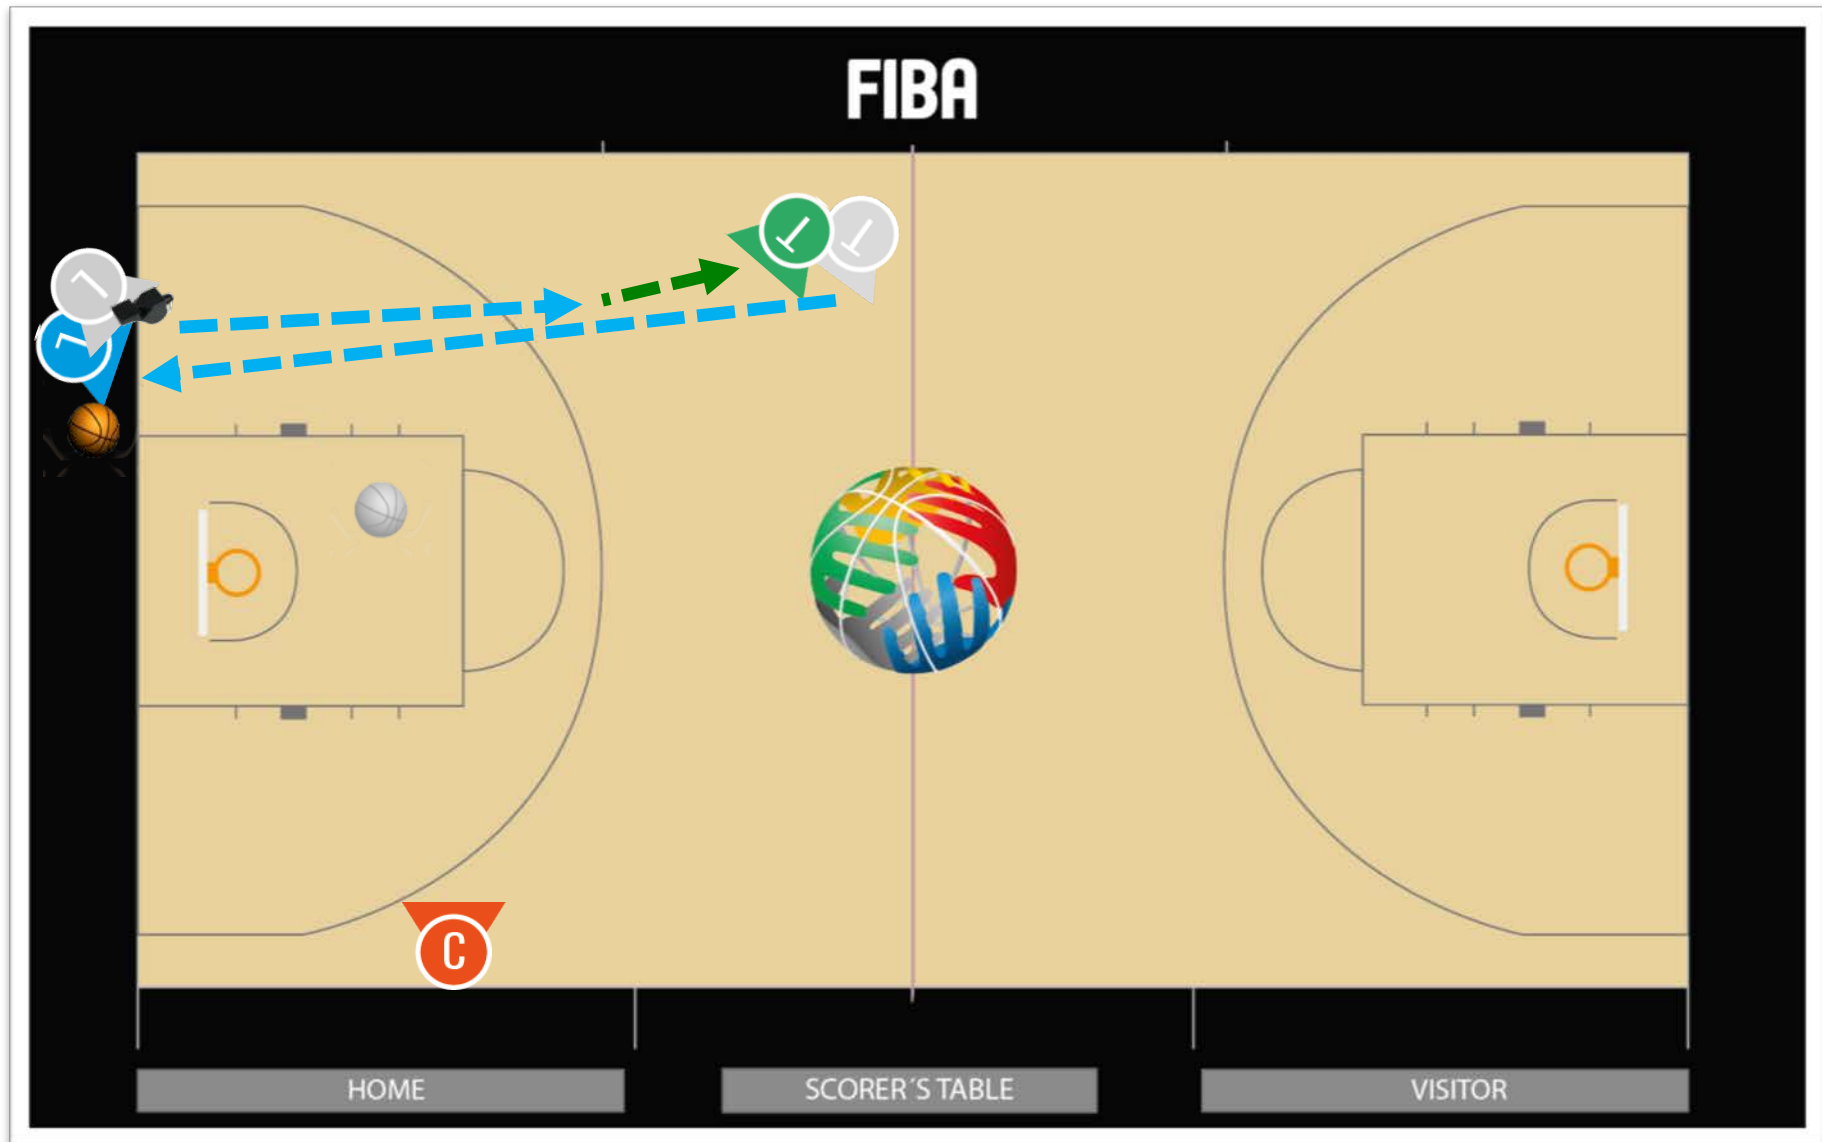

R58

Call frontcourt tableside by C – ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

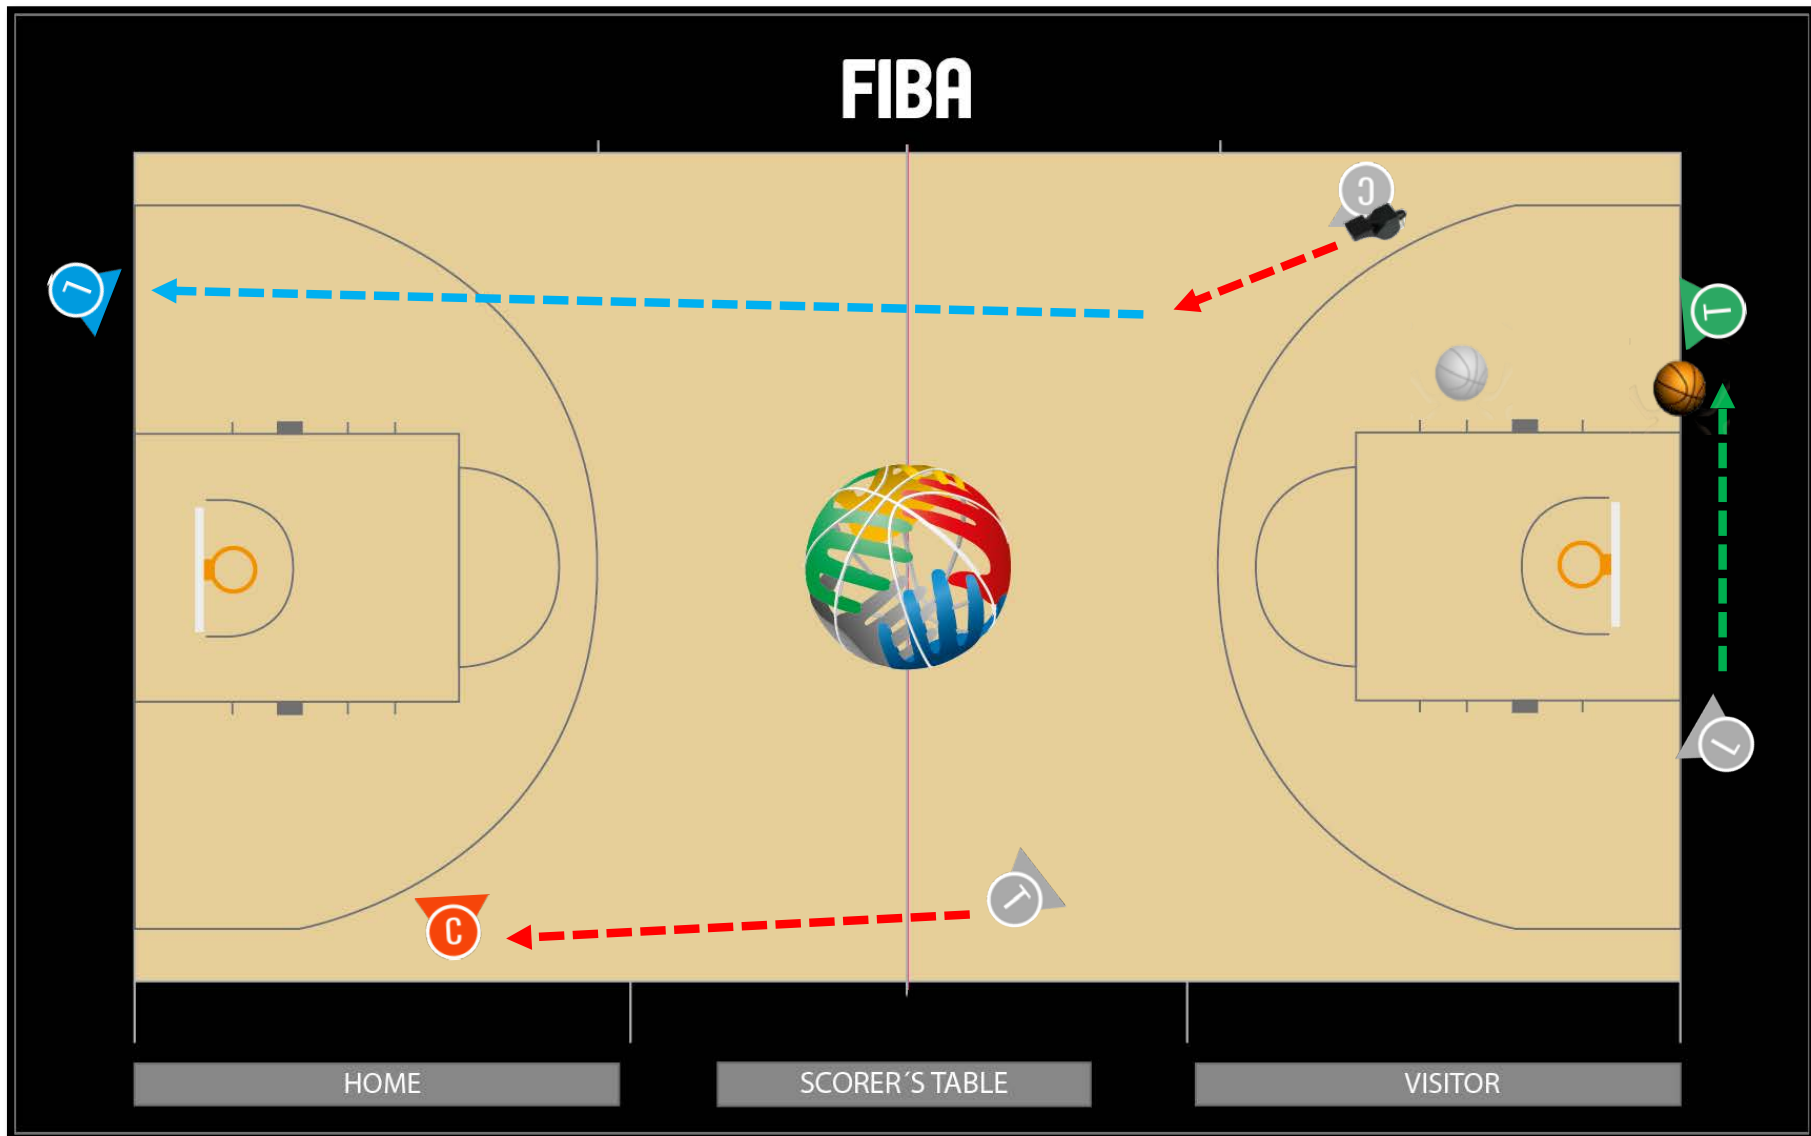

R59

Call frontcourt opposite side by L – ball remains in the frontcourt (throw-in)

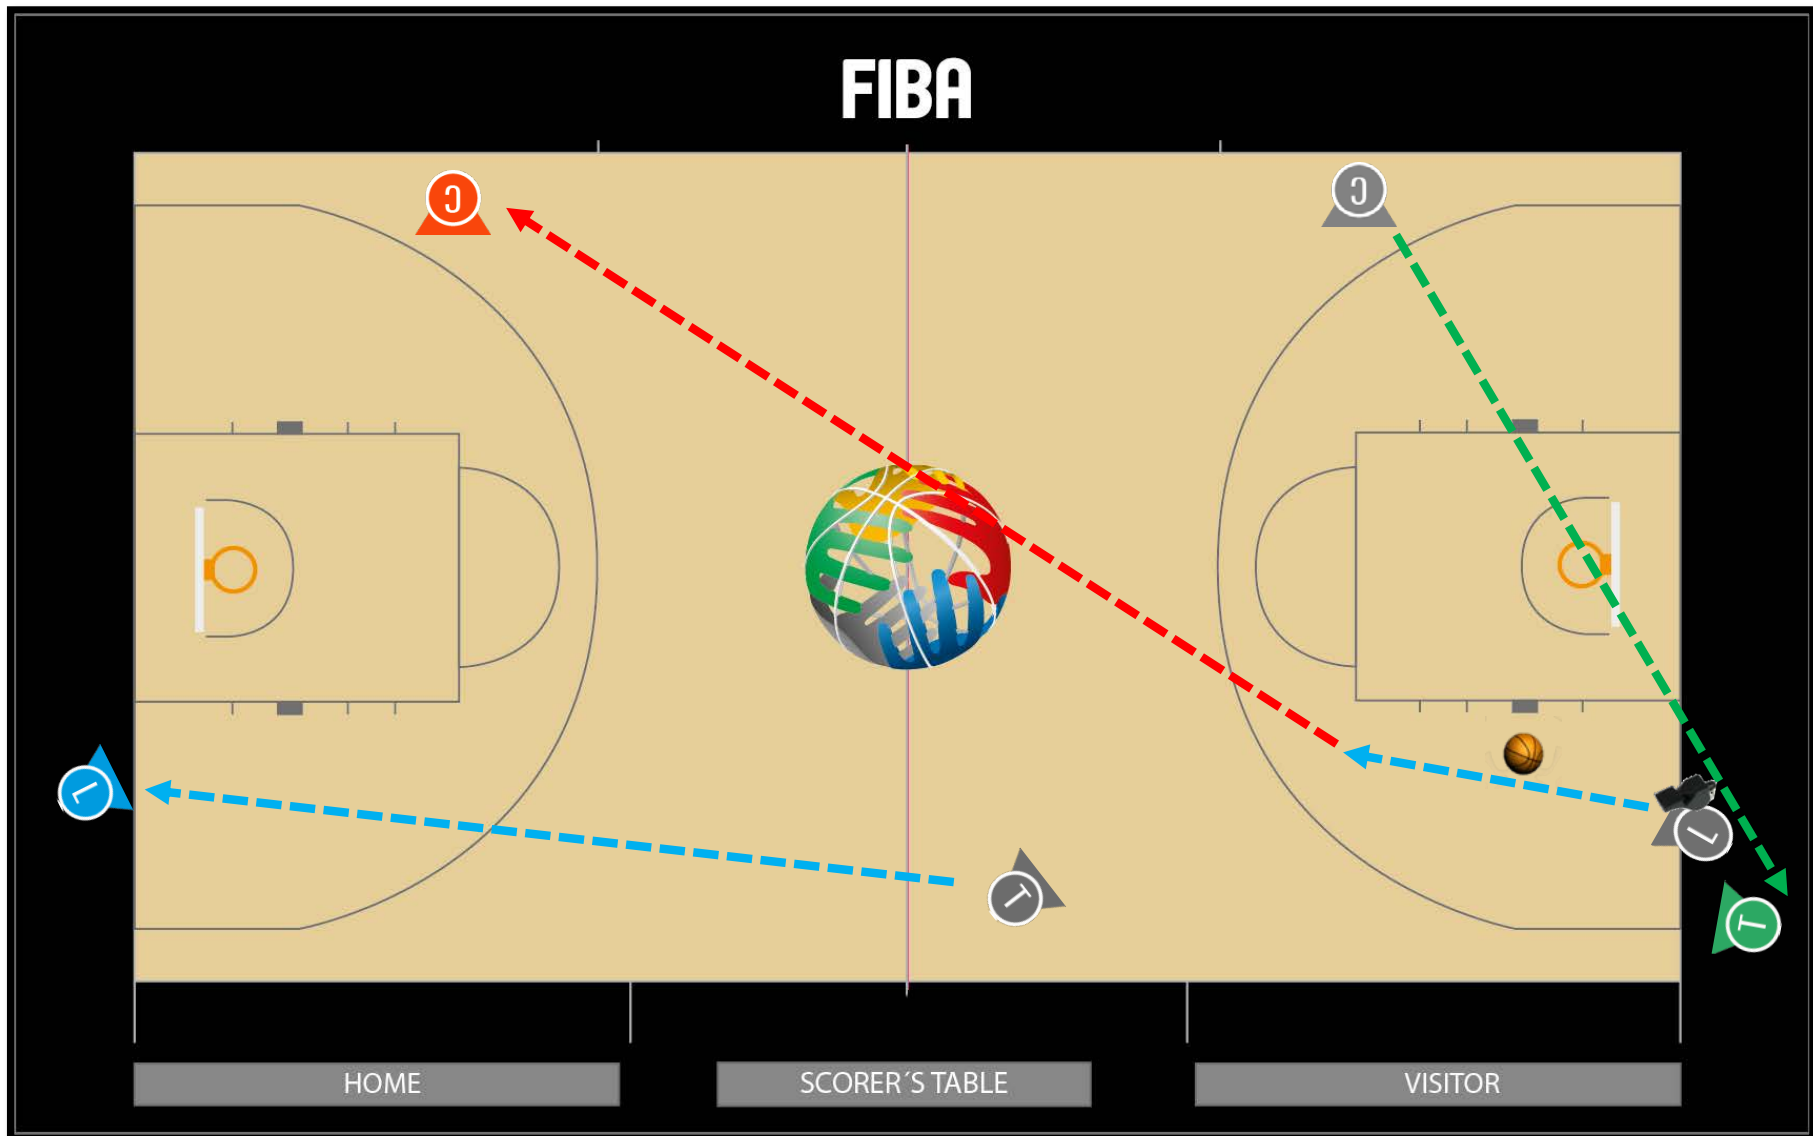

R60

Call backcourt opposite side by C – ball moves new direction (throw-in)

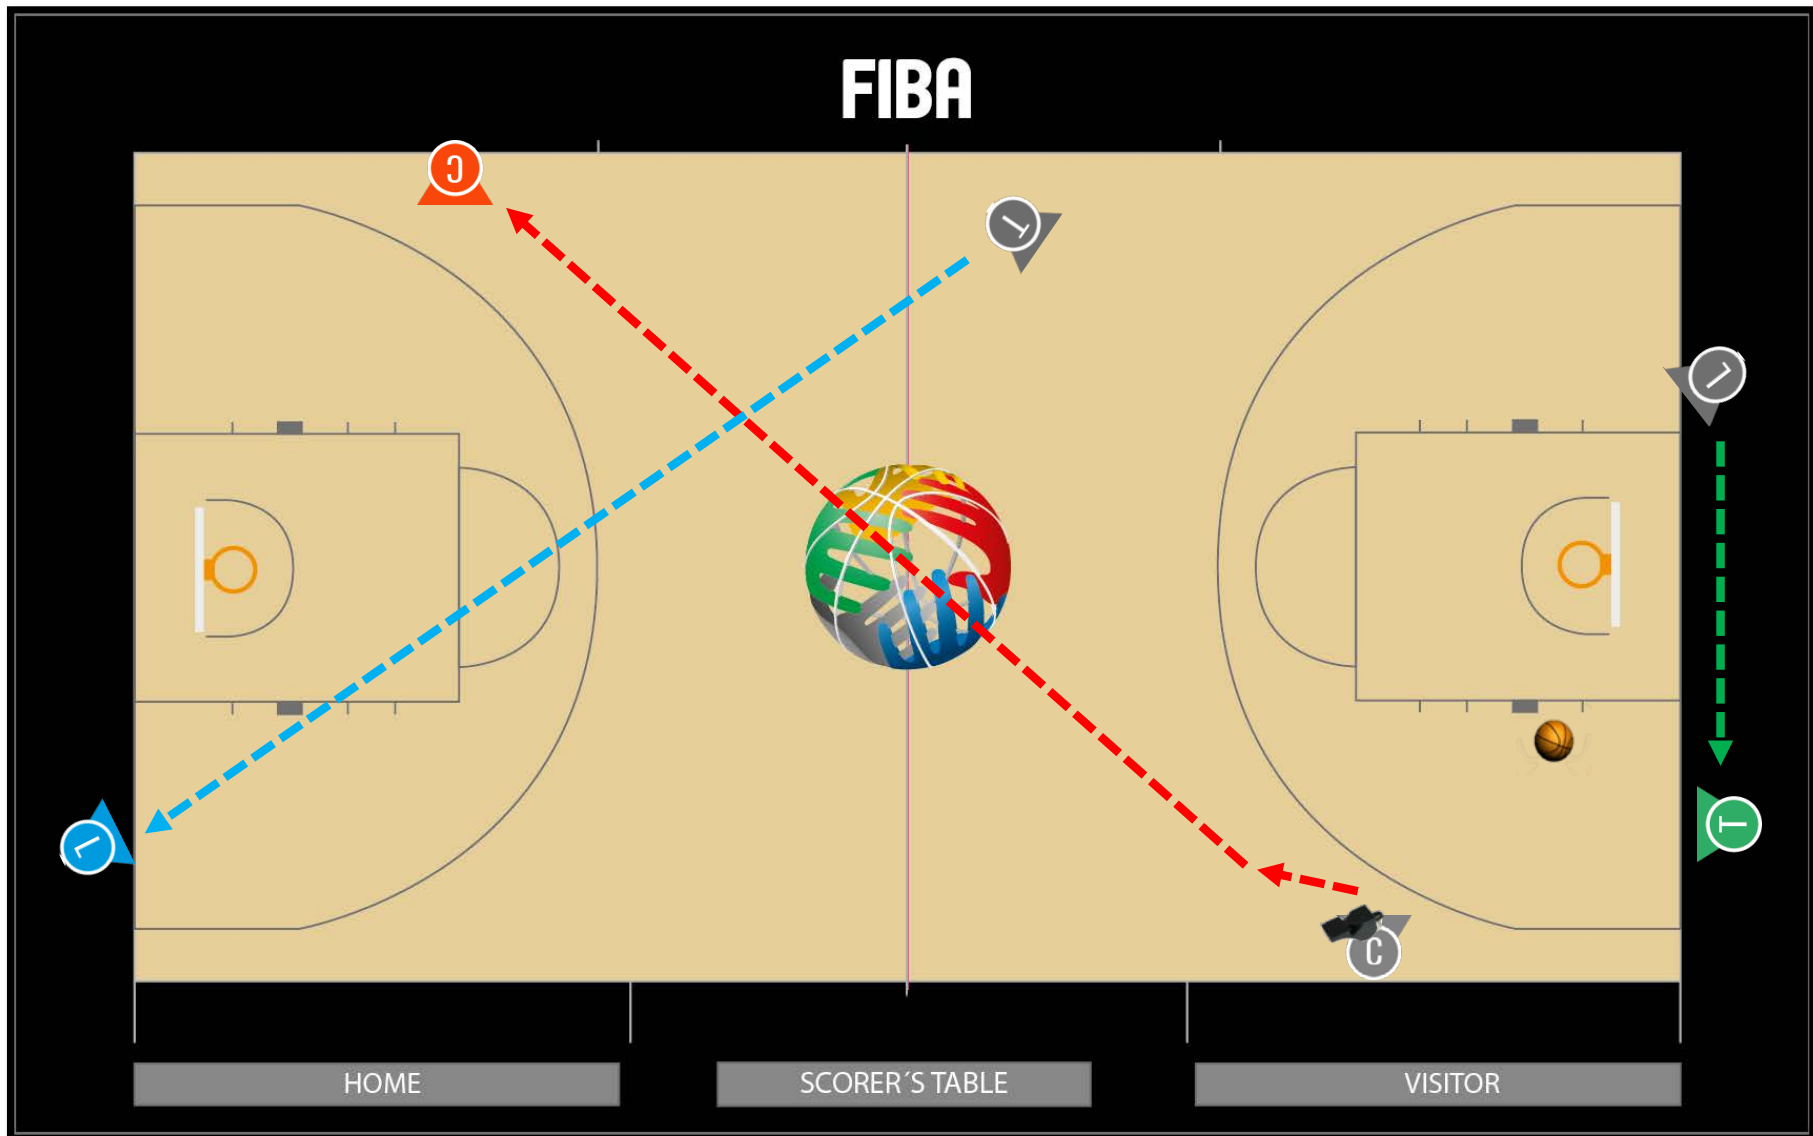

R61

Call backcourt table side by L – ball moves new direction (throw-in)

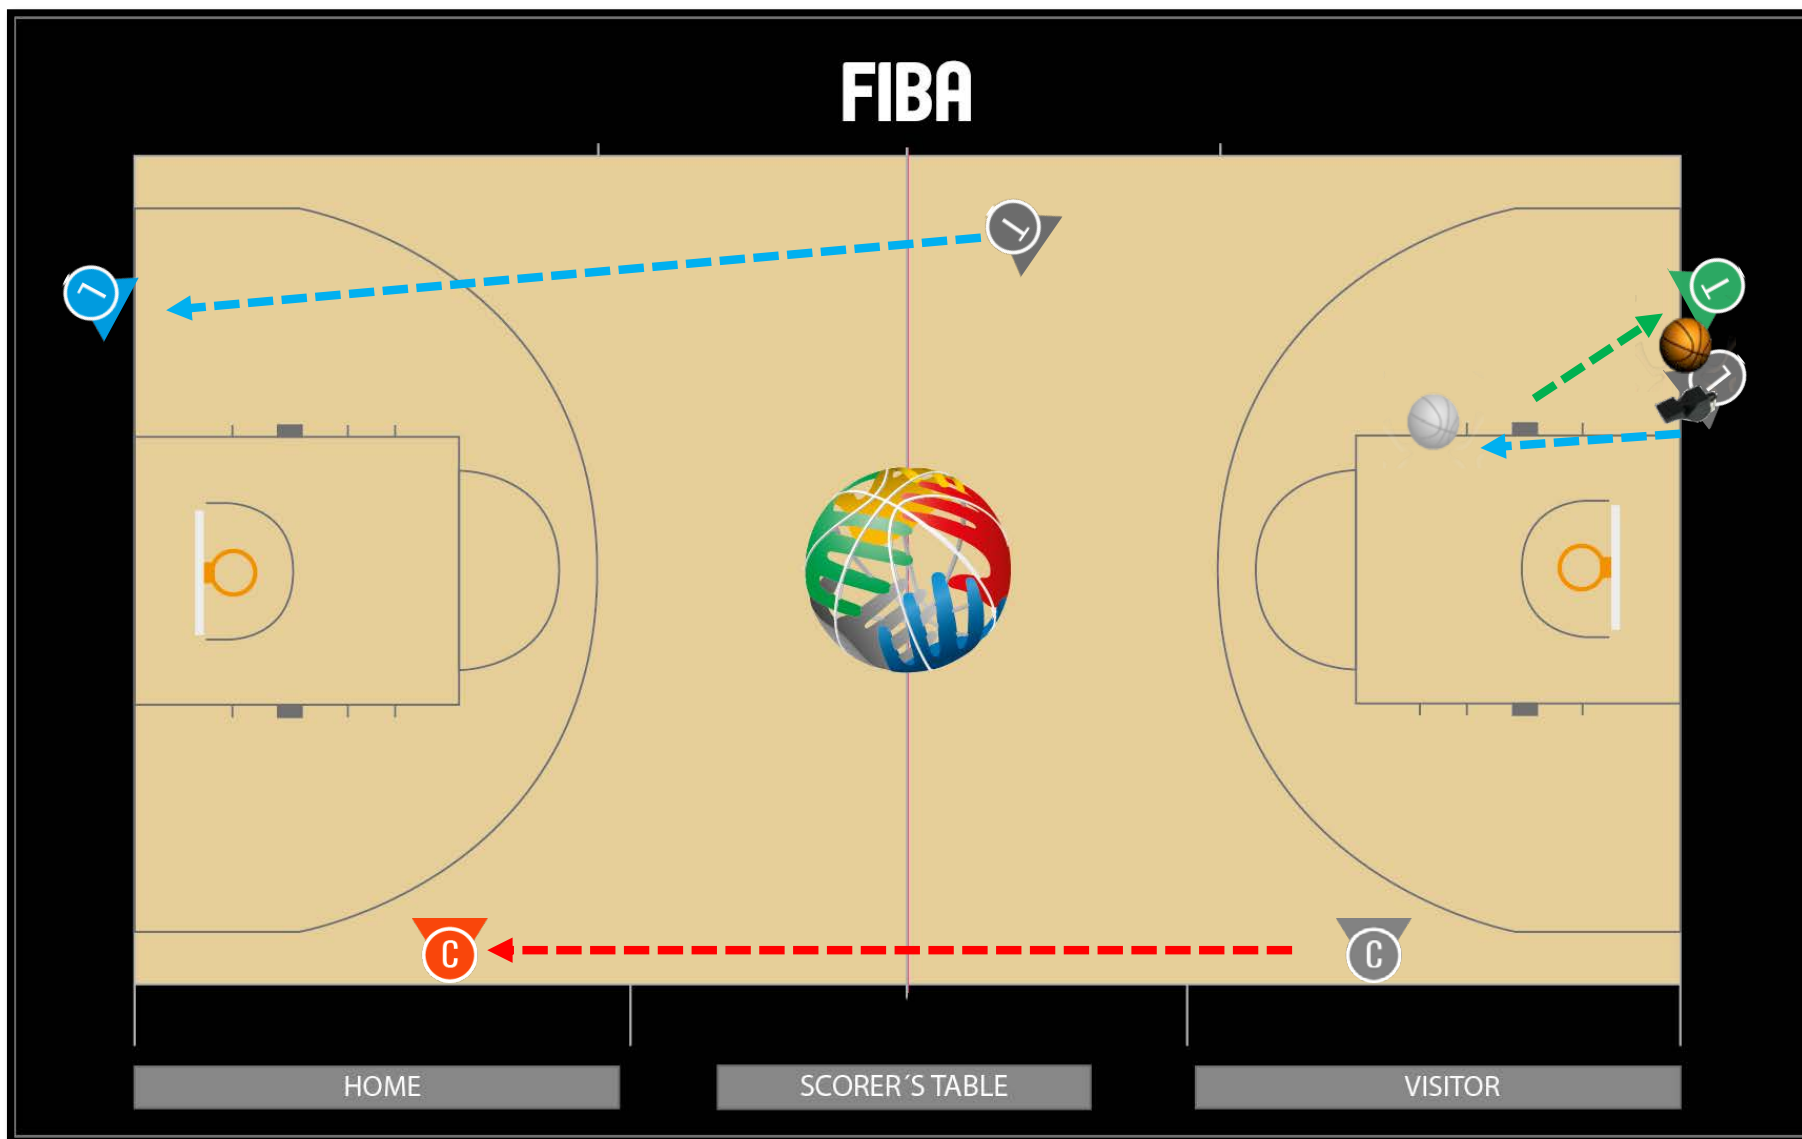

R62

Call backcourt table side by C – ball moves new direction (throw-in)

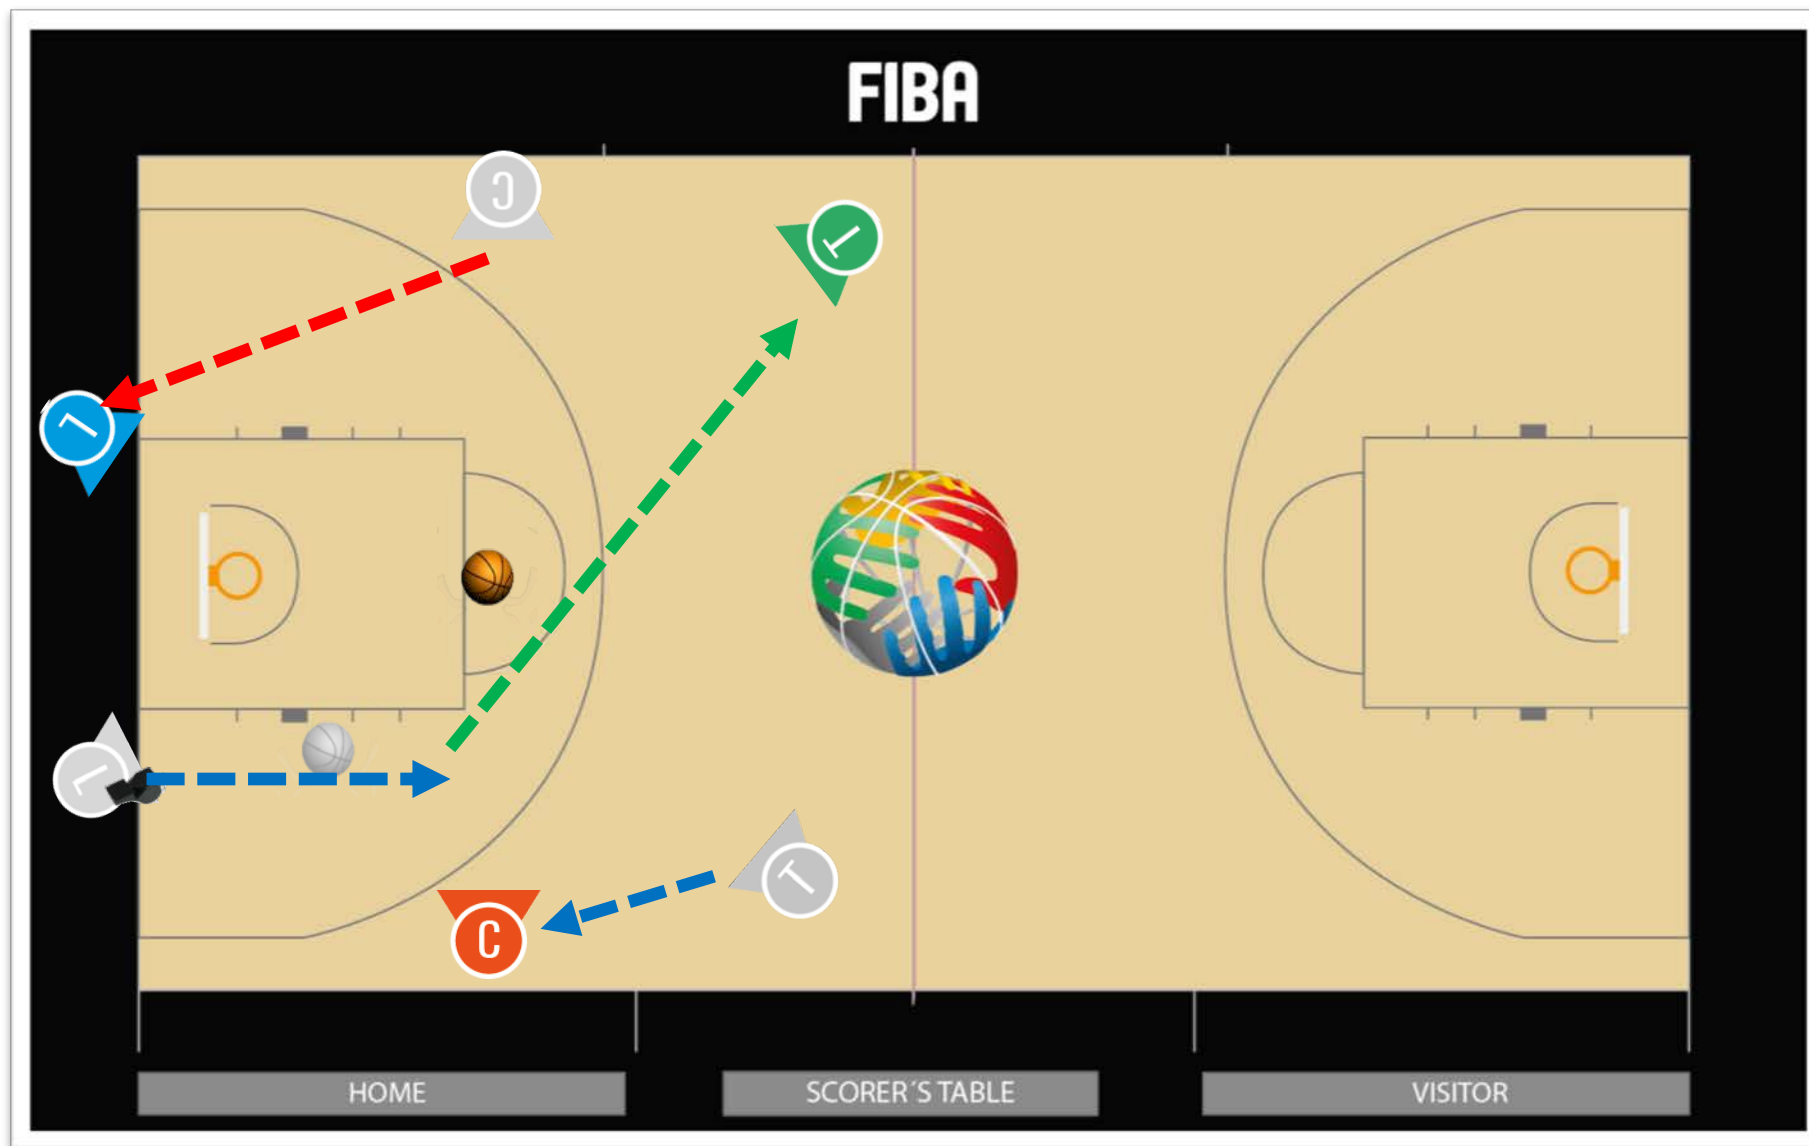

R63

Call backcourt opposite side by L – ball moves new direction (throw-in)

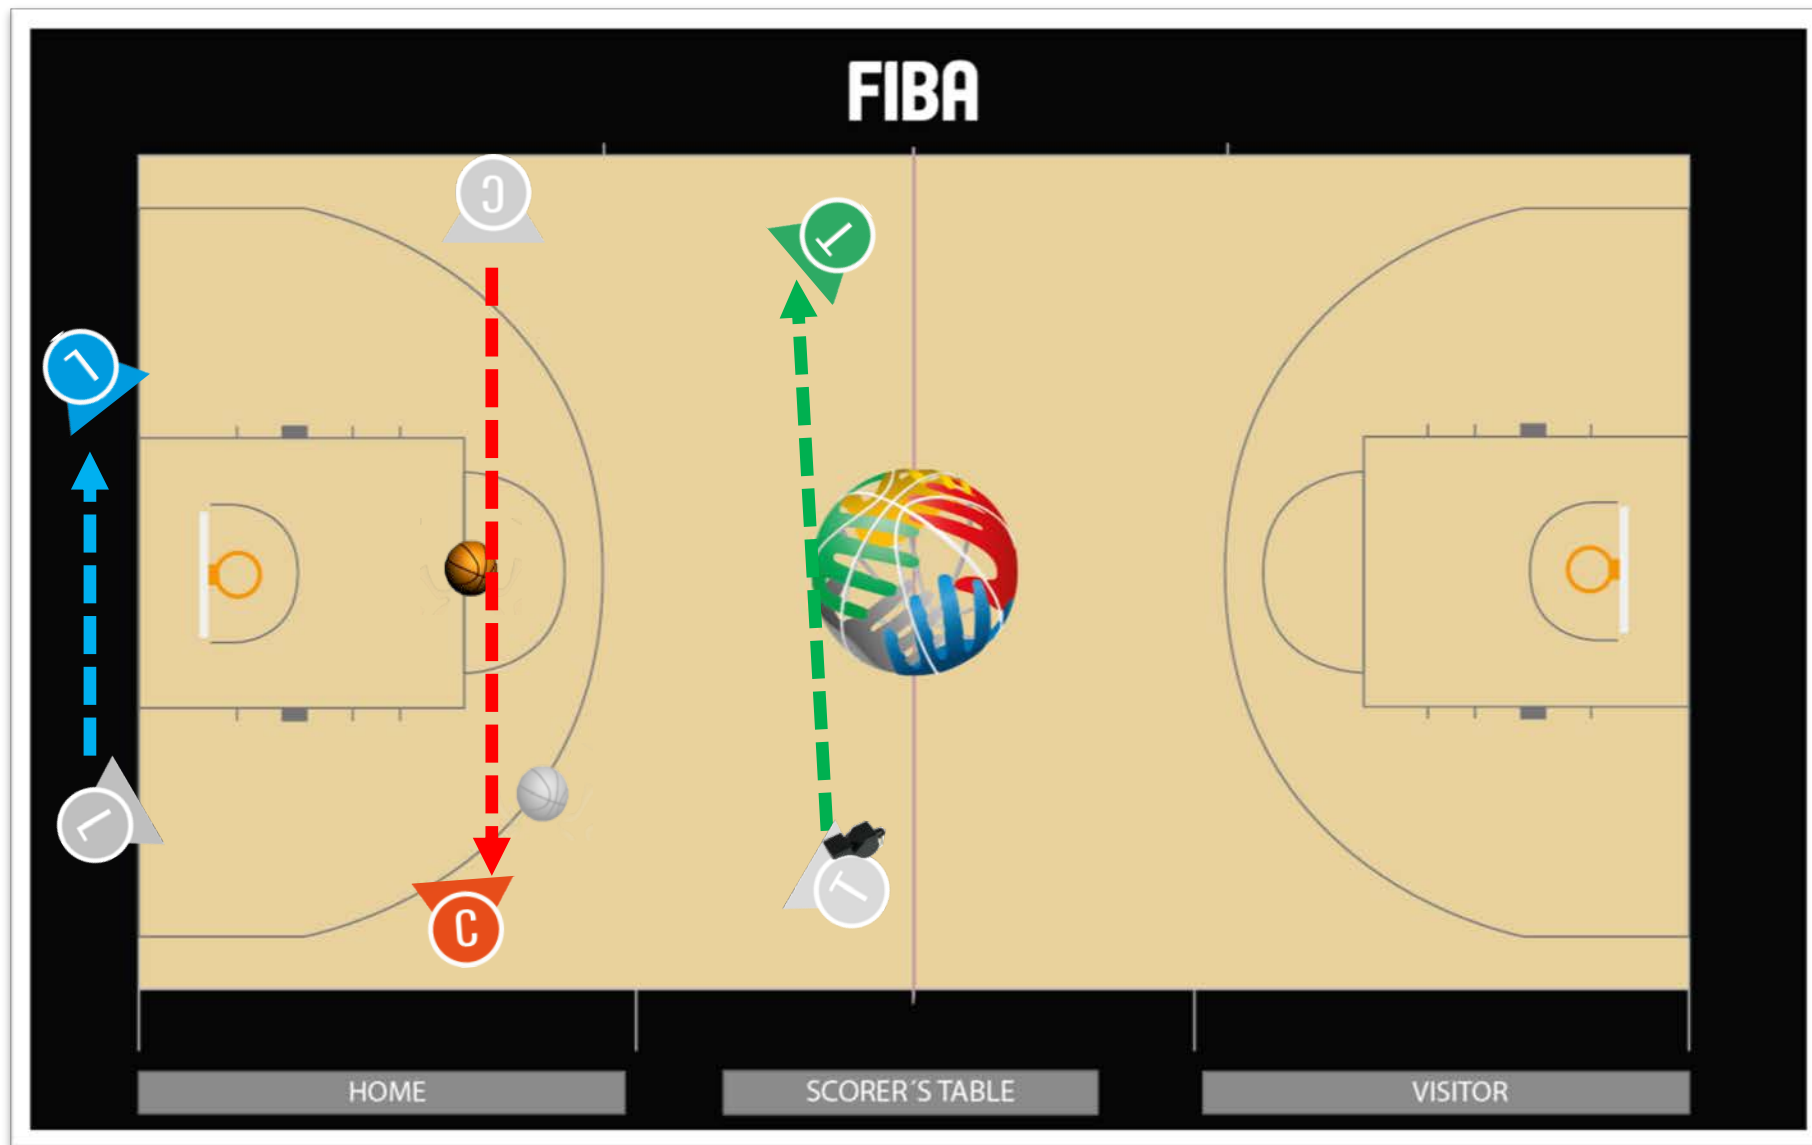

R64

Call frontcourt tableside by L – ball remains in the frontcourt (free throws)

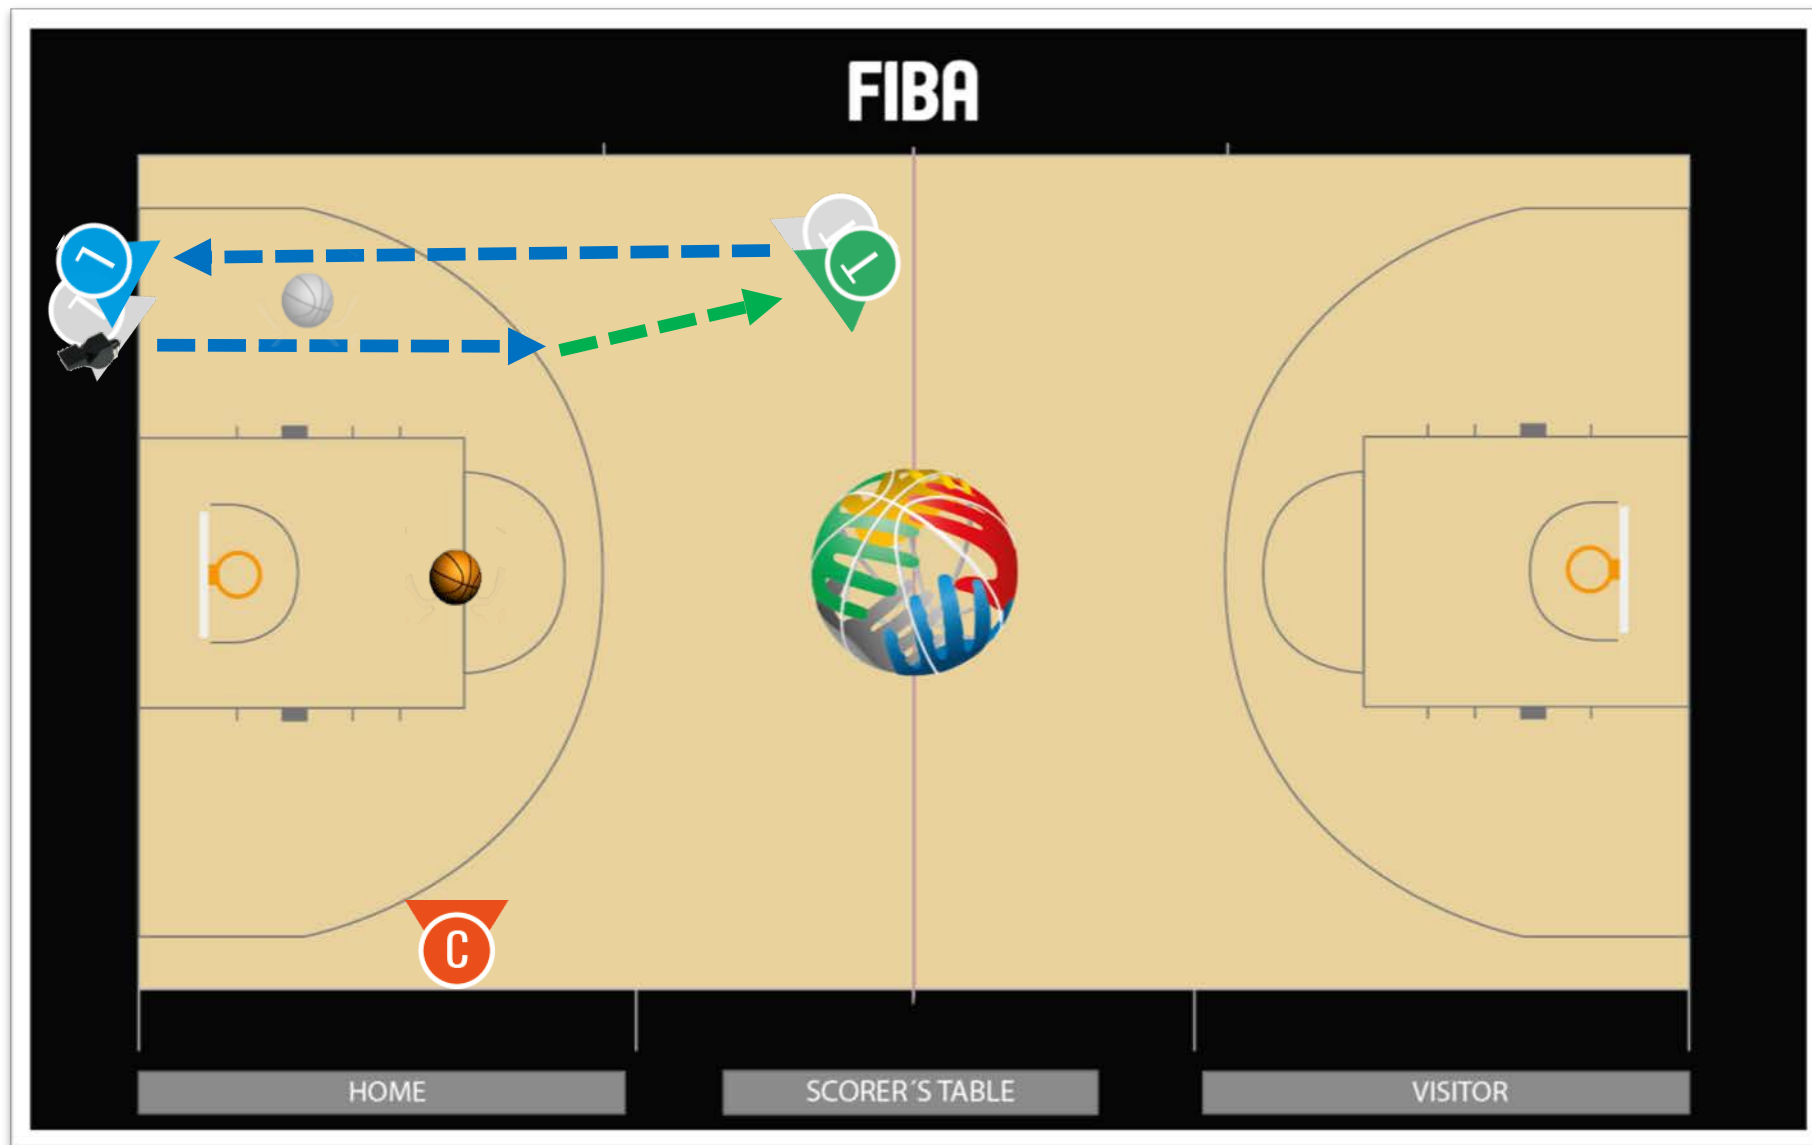

R65A

Call frontcourt tableside by T – ball remains in the frontcourt (free throws)

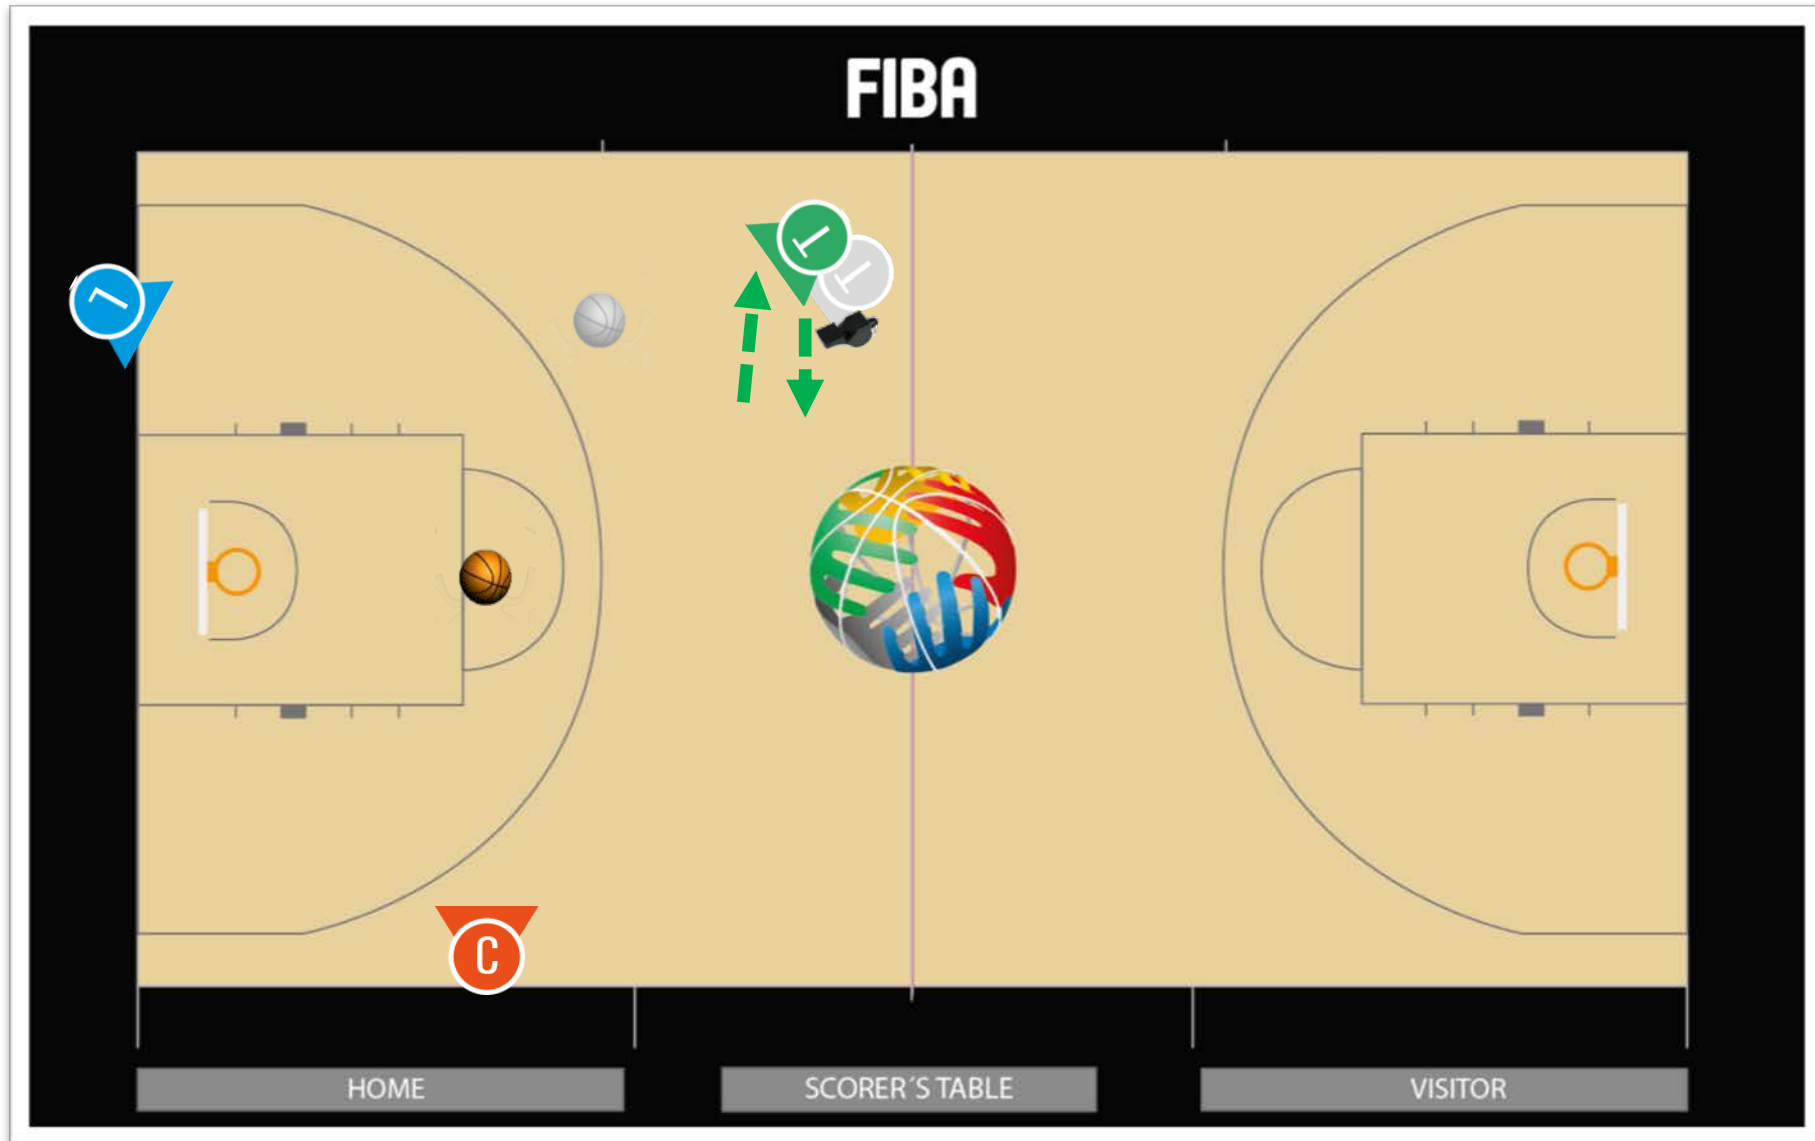

R66

Call frontcourt opposite side by L – ball remains frontcourt (free throws)

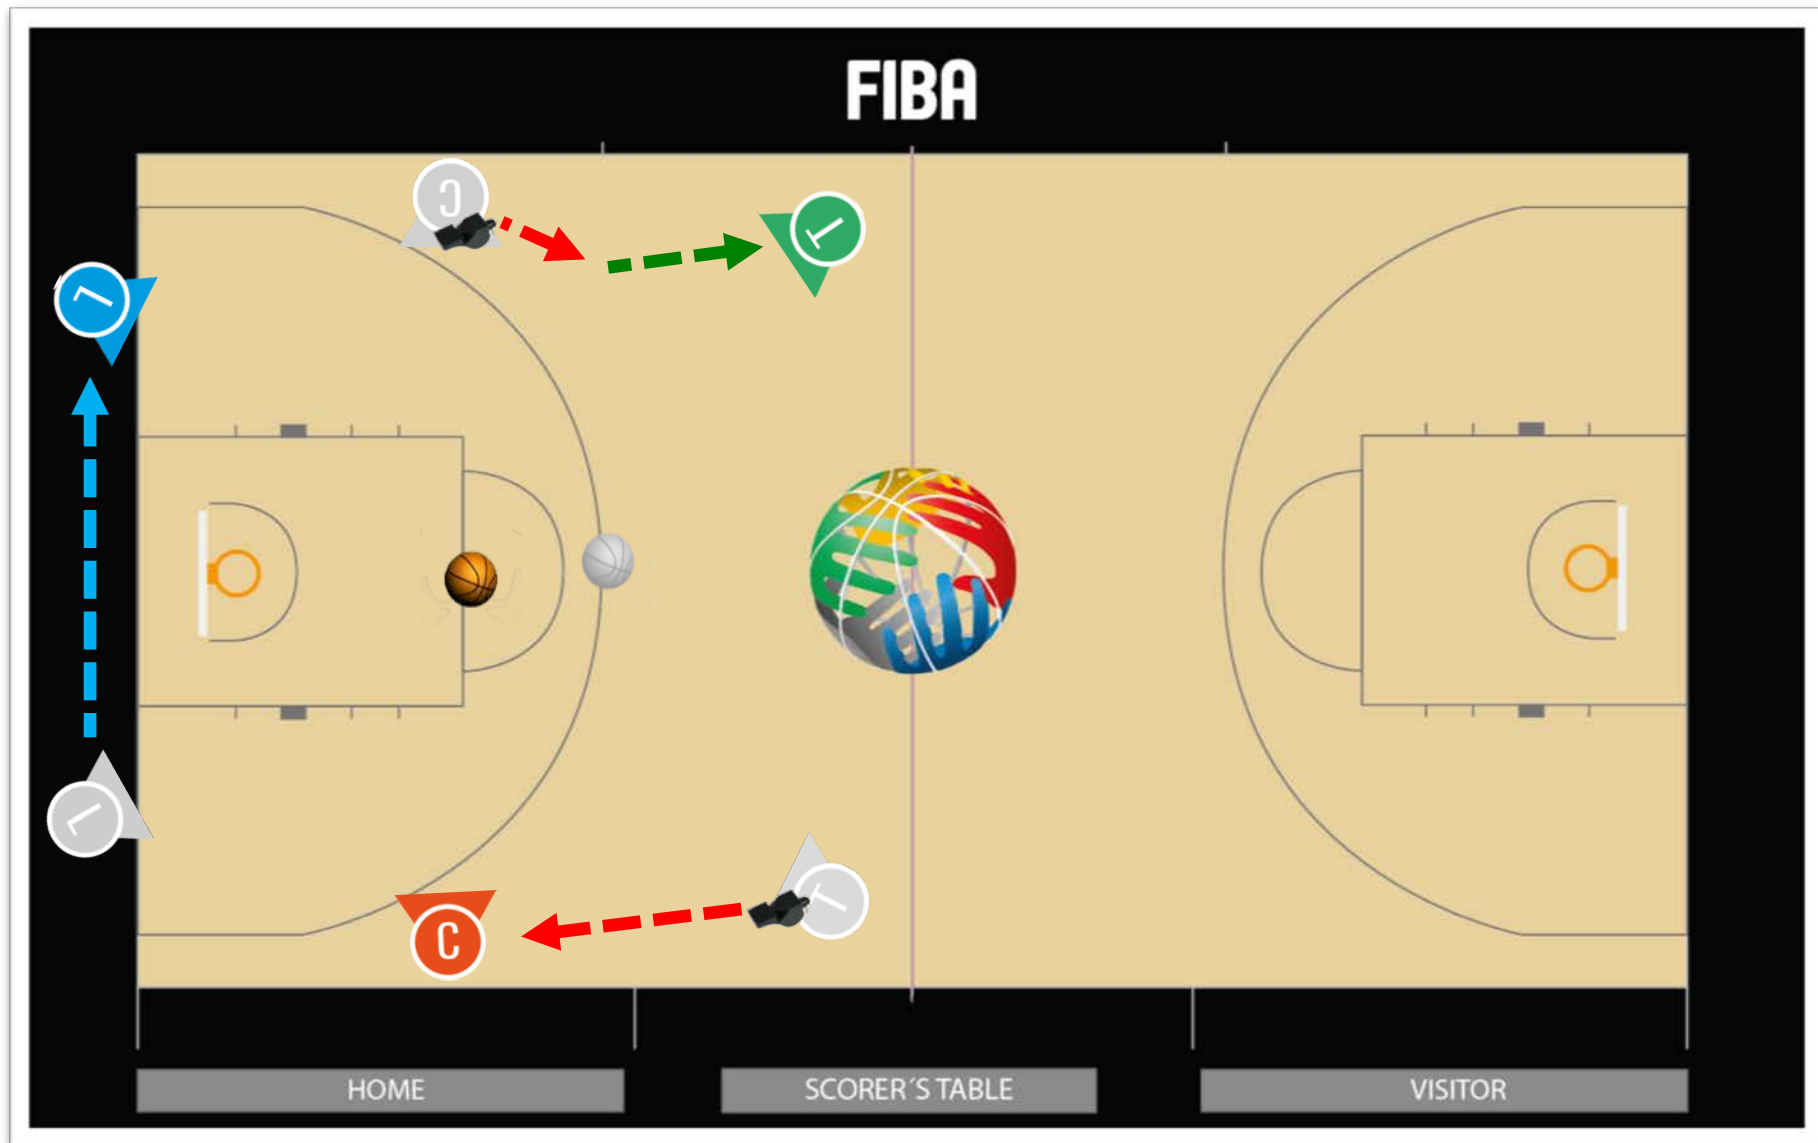

R67

Call frontcourt opposite side by T – ball remains in the frontcourt (free throws)

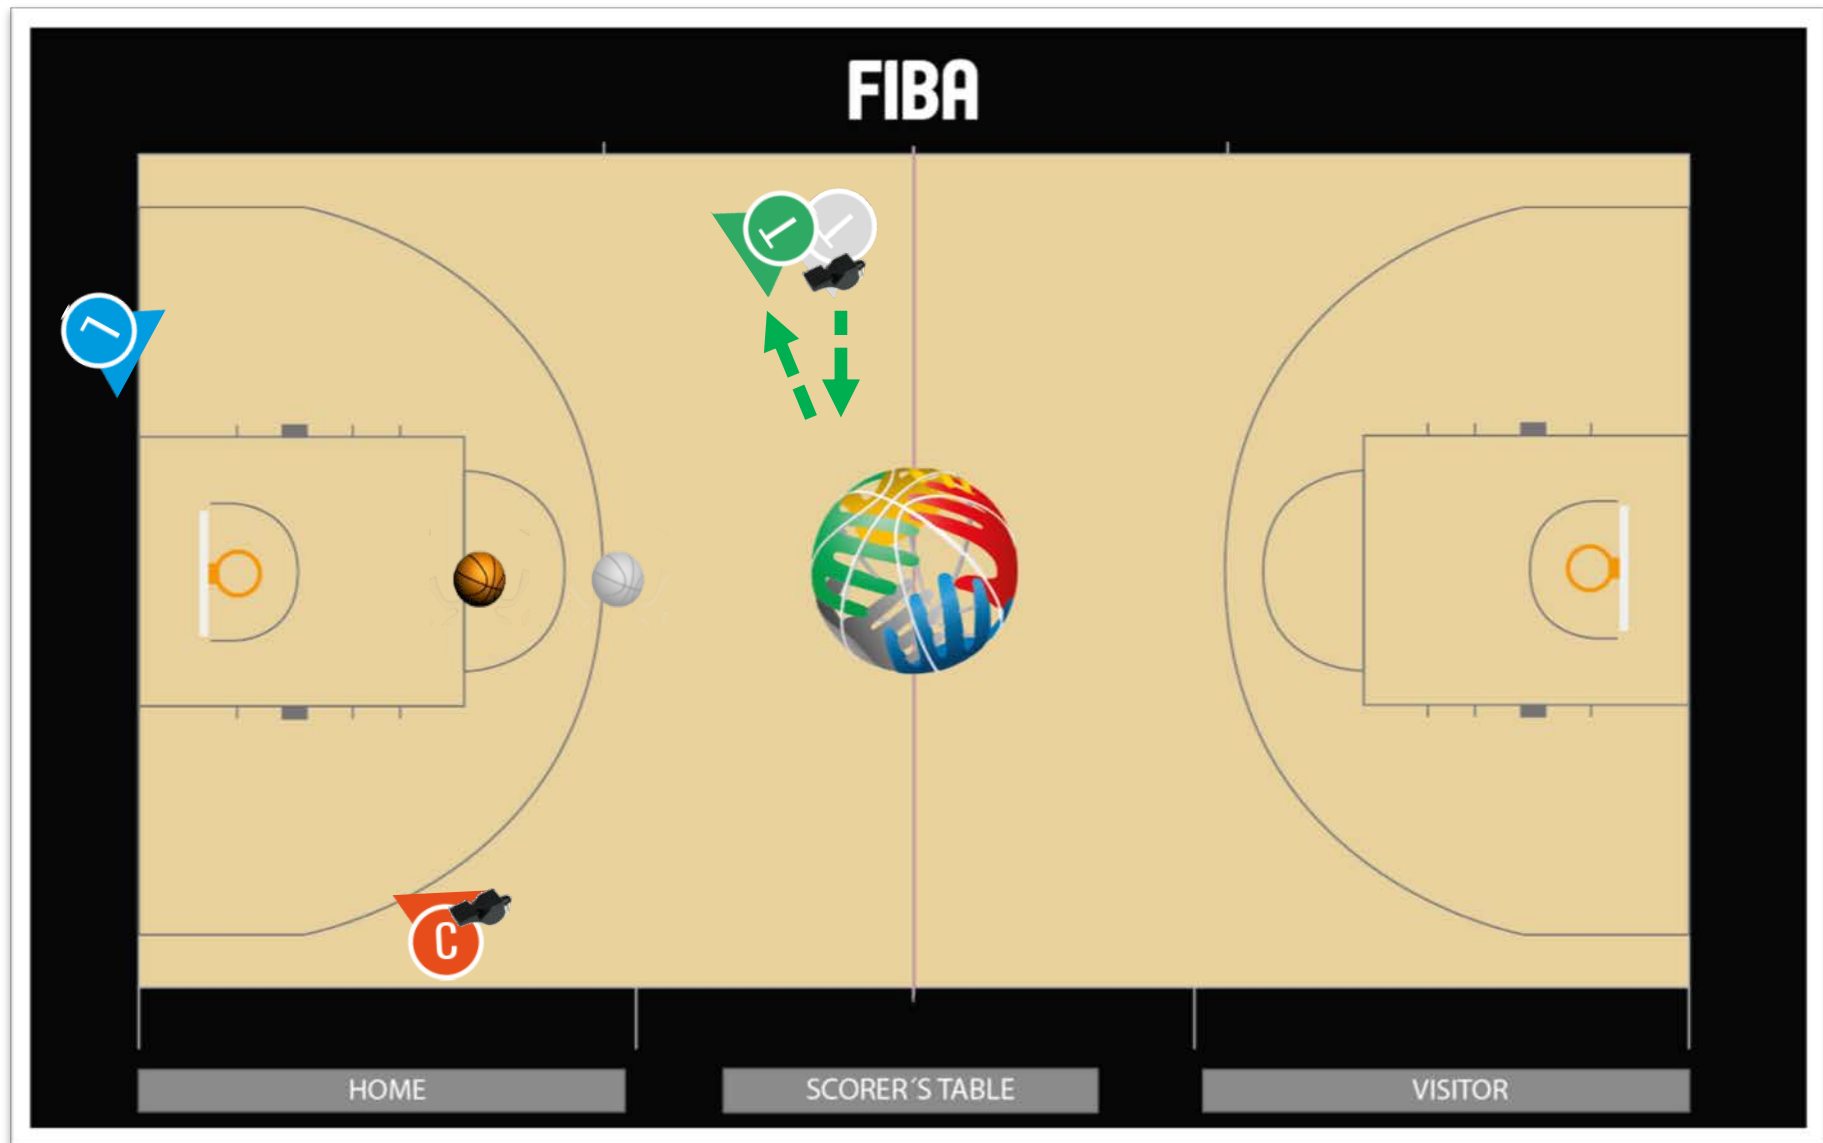

R68

Double call frontcourt by T & C- ball remains in the frontcourt (free throws)

R69

Double call frontcourt by T & C– ball remains in the frontcourt (free throws)

R70

Call frontcourt tableside by C – ball remains in the frontcourt (free throws)

